INQUIRING INTO OUR FINANCES.

Mr. HENRY MOREAU, the eminent French financial statistician, made a request of Minister BIGELOW to furnish him with statistics concerning the national debt and government resources. Mr. BIGELOW forwarded the request to Secretary MCCULLOCH, who has just sent to Mr. BIGELOW a package containing copies of all official reports and other documents that can impart the desired information. The package is accompanied by a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, thanking Mr. MOREAU for the kind interest he manifests in our welfare, and applauding the motive that induces the request for the financial statement. Other letters of a similar kind have been recently received, disclosing confidence in our resources and financial strength.

GEN. HITCHCOCK IN DEFENCE OF SEC. STANTON.

Gen. HITCHCOCK, Commissioner for Exchange, in a letter to the Chronicle dated yesterday, makes defence of the Secretary of War in the accusations made against Mr. STANTON on the subject of exchange of prisoners. This letter is supplementary to one of Aug. 21 on the same subject, and is called for, Gen. HITCHCOCK says, because the latter does not appear to have satisfied certain individuals who seem determined to give effect to their accusations against Mr. STANTON by the force of strenuous repetitions of them. Gen. HITCHCOCK proceeds:

The accusations against the Secretary of War appear to be substantially that he refused to make exchanges man for man and officer for officer, according to grade, on account of a "few negroes" held as prisoners of war in the South, whom the enemy refused to exchange. Mr. BROWNE states that from his information, which was obtained chiefly at Salisbury, in North Carolina, the whole number of that class of prisoners did not exceed three hundred. We are obliged to suppose that Mr. BROWNE honestly relied upon the information he alleged to have received at Salisbury, not only on this point, but also upon some other material points, although that information was from rebel sources entirely, and was undoubtedly designed to deceive and impose upon Mr. BROWNE and his unfortunate associates in prison. I waive the argument at present that a principle of action especially in the conduct of a government, is not usually determined by a consideration of the precise number of individuals who may be effected by it at the moment of its adoption. In the case under consideration, the principle should not be regarded as having reference only to the three hundred prisoners supposed by Mr. BROWNE to embrace all the colored troops of the United States in the hands of the enemy, but, as a principle, was designed to cover and protect all of that class of soldiers who might in the course of the war fall into the hands of the enemy. But in point of fact, Mr. BROWNE is entirely mistaken in supposing his information was to be relied upon reaching him as it did from the rebels by whom he was surrounded, and designed as it undoubtedly was to deceive him and others similarly situated, and through that deception to create dissatisfaction toward the government.

In due time no doubt the official records of the Adjutant-General's Department will be published, from which there will be seen two special items to be considered in connection with this subject: First, the entire number of colored troops in the service of the United States who were entitled to know that the Government of the United States was not unmindful of their claims to its protection in declaring the principles upon which exchanges should be conducted. Secondly, the official records referred to will show the actual number of colored troops of the United States who fell into the hands of the enemy, which number, I have reason to believe did not fall much, if any, below five thousand men, not to speak of the proportion of officers on duty with them. This is the rough estimate made by Col. FOSTER, of the Adjutant-General's Department in this city, who has charge of the Military Bureau for Colored Troops. Gen. HITCHCOCK then quotes from the Adjutant of the One Hundred and Eleventh Regiment of Colored Infantry, showing that there were in January, 1865, at work on the fortifications about Mobile, 569 colored soldiers belonging to three regiments only, and a reference is made to another paper as being at the time in the hands of another officer, an Adjutant also of one of those regiments, embracing the names of nearly 300 more soldiers of the same command, making in all over 800 soldiers of the United States Army at work under rebel officers on the fortifications around Mobile alone. I would not myself be disposed to dwell upon the number of prisoners of the class referred to; but as Mr. BROWNE is of the opinion that the whole number did not exceed 300, and gives importance to that opinion, I cite the statement of Lieut. and Adj. POPPLETON as being conclusive that the information of Mr. BROWNE was entirely delusive. With regard to the point that the Secretary of War refused to make exchange man for man, officer for officer, according to grade, I make the following statement: That in no instance within my knowledge did Mr. STANTON refuse to acquiesce in any proposition looking to that result. There is not in my office, nor have I ever seen, such a proposition from the rebel commissioner or rebel authorities, nor have I any reason to believe that any such proposition was ever made by Judge OULD or any of his superiors. This is not only true emphatically, as a protection against the accusations leveled at Mr. STANTON, but the precise contrary is the truth. Mr. STANTON has not only been willing, but anxious to make the exchanges referred to, as I have abundant means of showing by indisputable documents. The aim and purpose of Judge OULD was to draw from us all the rebel prisoners we held, in exchange for the white troops of the United States held as prisoners in the South, persistently refusing to exchange the colored troops down to a very late date, when, to carry a special purpose, he receded so far as to agree to exchange free colored men, leaving the general principle where it was on his side, against the just claims of the large body of colored prisoners held in the South. The only order suspending the delivery of rebel prisoners ever known to me was given by the President himself, and that was done the moment it was known that the rebels themselves—I mean their President—had himself virtually set aside the cartel for exchanges, in order, as Mr. DAVIS declared, to subject a certain class of Federal officers to be tried as criminals before Southern State courts, under State laws, for the punishment of the crime of exciting servile insurrection. If any one is disposed to object to that order, let him, if he dares assail the memory of the sainted author of it. At that time the rebels held more prisoners than we, but as soon as Gen. GRANT made prisoners of the garrison at Vicksburgh, the rebels became largely indebted on the score of prisoners, and from that moment we, on our side, were anxious to make exchanges, man for man, though constantly asserting the principle that colored troops when captured, should be treated as prisoners of war, not as an act of justice to individuals alone, whether many or few, but as both just and politic with respect to the entire body of troops who, by the fortune of war, were liable to capture. It is a very narrow view to decide this question upon a mere consideration of the precise number of prisoners at any one time in the hands of the enemy. The principle of protection was due to the entire body of troops employed by the government. The rebels, on their part, were opposed to making exchanges man for man, after we held an excess over them, because it was their object to draw from us that excess to place it in the army of Gen. LEE, without returning to us an effective body of men in exchange. They insisted upon this, on the ground that the cartel required it; although when they thought it was to their interest, they did not hesitate to violate the cartel, thus absolving us from the observance of it.

The letter of Gen. HITCHCOCK is very lengthy. The above paragraphs embrace the main points in it.

THE KENTUCKY DIFFICULTY.

The PALMER-SMITH Kentucky Military Commandant imbroglio grows in proportions. The forces on either side receive daily new reinforcements. Yesterday the GARRETT DAVIS delegation had an interview with the President, and vehemently urged the removal of Gen. PALMER; but the President quietly heard the remonstrants, and then informed them that he would take no action in the matter until he received a report from Gen. THOMAS, to whom the papers had been referred for investigation. Gen. ROUSSEAU arrived here to-day. He favors the PALMER side, and his letter strongly approving and indorsing Gen. PALMER has been on file some days in the War Department.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON NOT GOING SOUTH.

The President has abandoned his contemplated trip to Richmond and North and South Carolina, and yesterday notified the Secretary of the Navy that the vessel in waiting for him would not be required.

A NEW COUNTERFEIT.

The government authorities received yesterday a copy of a new counterfeit $10 greenback legal tender note just put in circulation. Arrests have been made and others will be made of persons engaged in preparing and issuing this counterfeit, but for good reasons, we are not authorized to give any of the particulars. This new bogus issue is dated Washington, March 10, 1862, letter C. The red seal is badly executed, as is also the border of the note, which is made up of repetitions of the letter X, irregularly put together. The general appearance of the bill is bad.

COTTON CONVENTION.

The proposition for a National Cotton-Growing Convention, first advocated by A. PENFIELD, Esq., of this city, through the columns of the TIMES, is meeting with much favor in high quarters. Gen. HOWARD, of the Freedmen's Bureau, writes to Mr. PENFIELD, who addressed him on the subject, heartily indorsing the proposition and suggesting the holding of the convention either in this city or in New-York some time in November next. Gen. HOWARD says the planters of the South are very anxious to procure labor to produce a large cotton crop next year, and feels assured that such a convention would aid in the solution of many practical problems concerning the laboring interests of the freedmen and the material interests of the country.

SOUTHERN MAILS AND DEFICIENCIES.

The Southern Post-office business is rapidly on the increase at the Post-office Department. For the past two weeks the Postmaster-General, in connection with the Sixth Auditor of the Treasury Department, has been engaged in ascertaining the deficits of the various Postmasters at the South before the war, and in making preparations to enforce the collection of these deficiencies. The total amount of the deficiencies of those Postmasters who held Presidential appointments is ascertained to be $158,965 68. It is also a matter of interest to note that every one of the appointees now commissioned by the President and Postmaster-General is required to take the oath imposed by the act of July, 1862, commonly known as the "test oath," and that plenty of men are found who can conscientiously take the oath. In a few instances only is the commission returned with the statement that the appointee cannot take the oath. All postmasters now appointed are required to be well indorsed by competent authority. In some localities ladies have been appointed, when a loyal man could not be found.

BASE BALL CONTEST.

The grand match, Excelsior vs. National, which take place to-morrow afternoon on the President's grounds, creates a great deal of interest here. The Excelsiors arrived this morning, and to-day have been the recipient of the most courteous attention. The withdrawal of the Atlantics from their engagement to meet the Athletics here, occasions comments in base ball circles anything but complimentary to the Atlantics. According to the Nationals' story they have acted very badly in the matter. The Nationals play the Enterprise Club, of Baltimore, on Tuesday. The weather is delightful for ball play. The President will visit the grounds at 4 o'clock P. M., for about ten minutes.

REPORT OF THE WIRZ TRIAL.

Maj.-Gen. LEW WALLACE and other members of the Wirz Military Commission, have addressed a note to the Secretary of War, stating that the proceedings of the Wirz trial will be of great general and historical interest, and it should be reported correctly and in respectable style. To that end they suggest that a copy of the official record be placed in the hands of FRANK MOORE, Esq., for publication in the "Rebellion Record."

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

Receipts of internal revenue yesterday were one million two hundred and ninety-eight thousand seven hundred and twenty-eight dollars and eighty cents.

RECEPTION OF COLORED TROOPS.

The First Colored Regiment of the District of Columbia arrived at the Sixth-street wharf to-day, direct from Texas. An immense concourse of the colored population was at the landing to receive them; among the crowd many of the wives, children, etc., of the soldiers. A joyous scene was that when the regiment got upon the shore. They were marched to the Campbell Hospital, there to put up until to-morrow, when a formal reception and supper is to be given the returned soldiers.

NEGROES AGAINST COAL MONOPOLISTS.

The freedmen in Alexandria, not feeling inclined to pay the exorbitant price asked for coal by dealers in that place, have formed protective associations and procured several cargoes of coal from a distance: a portion of which they have disposed of to prominent white citizens of the town at a much lower figure than it could be purchased from the regular dealers. There is a very commendable degree of enterprise in the freedmen of Alexandria and Washington.

GEN. LEE'S SISTER TAKES THE OATH.

Mrs. INGRAHAM, a sister of ROBERT E. LEE, appeared before the Provost-Marshal here yesterday and took the oath of allegiance.

DEATH OF A WISCONSIN OFFICER.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. HORACE T. SANDERS, late Colonel of the Nineteenth Wisconsin Volunteers, and a lawyer of eminence and a prominent Democrat in his State, died in this city night before last. His remains will be taken to his friends in Wisconsin.

Dispatches to the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Oct. 8.

HEALTH OF WIRZ.

Capt. WIRZ is suffering from inflammation of his right arm, which was wounded by a shell. He seems to have recovered from the depressing effects of his nervous attacks, and has, therefore, exhibited marked calmness during the trial of late.

BASE BALL NEWS.

The majority of the Excelsior Club arrived here today and have been in the hands of the hospitable Nationals. The base ball match between the Excelsiors and the Nationals to-morrow will draw a large crowd of spectators. A delegation of the Athletics are expected here to-morrow. Their gentlemanly action with regard to the proposed game with the Atlantics has won for them hosts of friends, while it has cost the latter the loss of many admirers. The refusal of the Atlantics to fulfill their engagement to meet the Athletics in Washington, will probably result in there being no games this season between the champions and the Athletics, as there certainly will not be with the Nationals.

On Tuesday, the Enterprise Club, of Baltimore, enters the lists with the Nationals. The President, it is expected, will visit the grounds to-morrow, for a brief time.

PERSONAL ASSAULT.

In Alexandria, Va., Col FREE, of the One Hundred and Ninety-fifth Ohio Volunteers, was attacked, last night, by an ex-rebel soldier. The latter was most severely punished.

A COLORED MAN SHOT.

A colored man, named HUNTER, was shot and severely wounded in the head, this afternoon, by a young man named RICHARDSON, of this city.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

The Colored Convention—The State Convention Repealing the Secession Ordinance.

From Our Own Correspondent.

RALEIGH, N. C., Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1865.

The Colored Convention adjourned sine die last night, after a session of five days. They have organized a State Equal Rights League, and addressed a petition on the subject of political rights before the law to the Constitutional Convention now in session. The League organization is similar to that of other bodies of the same sort in all parts of the North, and its headquarters are located in Raleigh. The address has been forwarded to you, and your readers are able to judge of it themselves. It is moderate in tone, and will be presented to-morrow.

The Constitutional Convention met this morning, and after the usual preliminary proceedings, including prayer, the business of the day was inaugurated by taking up that unfinished yesterday.

The resolution excluding all but five reporters from seats in the hall was brought up and after an explanation by Mr. CLARK, of Newbern, who originated it, was amended so that in reality the whole matter is left in the hands of the President. Mr. CLARK stated that he merely introduced the resolution in order to bring the attention of the convention to the subject. It is a matter of remark, however, among the Northern reportorial corps here that there are just five Southern papers represented at the reporters' desk.

The resolution instructing the President to procure a national flag to be raised over the building during the sessions of the convention was adopted. The history of this resolution is as follows: A party of army officers talking in the lobby yesterday, noticed the absence of the flag from the staff on the Capitol building, and proposed, jokingly, to get "old glory"—the Exchange Hotel banner—the largest one in town, and raise it at night clandestinely. Some one, overhearing their remarks, supposed them to be in earnest, and immediately suggested the propriety of a resolution on the subject, whereupon it was presented.

The resolution fixing the hour of convening the convention at 10 A. M. and its sessions to last at least not later than 3 P. M. was taken up and laid on the table.

The resolution calling on the Governor for information as to the specie value of State bonds and Treasury notes, at the time of their issue, was also laid on the table. Mr. CONIGLOUD, the father of the resolution, explained that he presented it not to form a basis of financial argument, for he was opposed to the consideration of that subject in the convention, but to get hold of useful information for the benefit of the country.

The unfinished business being disposed of, a resolution was received asking the Governor whether he had received any information from the President of the United States relative to the State war debt, particularly regarding its connection with the admission of the State into the Union. Under the rules, all resolutions and reports lay over one day.

The Business Committee presented a report in part including resolutions authorizing the appointment of committees for the following purposes:

To examine into the matter and report an ordinance if necessary, limiting the number of Justices in the several counties.

To revise the constitution, by consolidating the amendments, and leaving out unnecessary and repealed provisions, thereby making it "one instrument."

To report proper action for the convention relative the secession ordinance.

To report an ordinance for the abolition of slavery.

To lay off the State in eight Congressional Districts.

To report what steps ought to be taken to procure universal amnesty for participants in the late war.

The rules were suspended, and the report received and adopted.

The Chairman appointed the committees in accordance therewith, and, with the exception of the report of the Committee on the Secession Ordinance, which will be found below, they will probably report to-morrow.

Mr. MOORE, of Wake, presented an ordinance providing for an election of members of the State Legislature and of Congress. The ordinance arranges that the General Assembly shall convene on the 3d of November, 1865, and that members shall hold their offices until August, 1866. The qualifications of voters are prescribed in accordance with the laws of the State and the Amnesty Proclamation, assuming that when a voter has made application for pardon, he is pardoned, and is therefore qualified. It was on this assumption that some of the members were allowed to take their seats in the convention, and that many men were allowed to vote at the recent election.

An ordinance relative to the authentication of ordinances passed, was presented.

Also, an ordinance to provide for the election of municipal officers for the various cities and corporations of the State, fixing the day of election on the 19th of November.

Dr. JONES, of Rowan, introduced an ordinance to repeal the ordinance of secession, as follows:

Whereas, A convention of the people of North Carolina did, on the 20th of May, 1861, pass an ordinance professing in terms to repeal the ordinance of 1787, and to sever the legal connection existing between the State of North Carolina and the Federal Government, commonly called the ordinance of secession; and

Whereas, This convention do not in any manner indorse the theory of secession, yet a due respect to the opinions of our fellow-citizens who did, and, in order to have no impediment in the way of the rehabilitation of the State, render the repeal of the so-called ordinance of secession, if not necessary, at least expedient and proper; therefore,

Be it ordained by the delegates of this convention, and it is ordained by the authority of the same, that the aforesaid so-called ordinance, ratified on the 20th of May, 1861, be and the same is hereby repealed.

This ordinance was presented during the absence of the committee appointed to prepare the business of the convention on the subject, and is supposed to be the child of the weak-kneed conciliatory element. It presents a strange contrast to the following which was presented by the committee above mentioned, through their chairman, Mr. BOYDEN, also of Rowan.

An ordinance declaring null and void the ordinance of May 20, 1861:

Be it declared and ordained by the good people of North Carolina in convention assembled, and it is hereby declared and ordained that the ordinance of the Convention of the State of North Carolina, ratified on the 21st of November, 1787, which adopted and ratified the Constitution of the United States, is now and at all times since the ratification and adoption thereof hath been in full force and effect, notwithstanding the supposed ordinance of May 20, 1861, declaring that the same be repealed, rescinded and abrogated; and the supposed ordinance is now and at all times hath been null and void.

Mr. SMITH, of Johnson, attempted to suspend the rules and pass this ordinance immediately, or, at least, to get it to its second reading. His motion to that effect met with opposition, which was carried to a considerable extent, led by Mr. MANLY, of Newbern. A proposition to take the ayes and noes—which have not been called yet during the session and which would have developed the exact strength of the rabid element—squelched the proceedings. All the amendments and the original motion were withdrawn, and, under the rules, the ordinance lies over until to-morrow.

Thus endeth the third day.

So far the citizens and the members themselves do not exhibit much interest in the work of the convention. In the lobby I have never seen more than a dozen citizens at a time, and the galleries are thinly occupied. The impression of a looker-on at the convention is favorable as regards the dignity and general appearance of the body. There are many gray-haired men in it, and all of them seem to be well-built specimens of the sons of the old North State. A wag in town suggested from the gravity of the members that they "looked like a funeral." Whereupon it was remarked that many of the members were really burying a dear friend. This remark is substantiated by the fact that nine members of the seceding convention of 1861 are delegates in this body. Three of them were on Mr. BOZDEN's committee which reported the ordinance given above. The work laid out already will occupy at least a couple of weeks, and it is probable that the session will last nearly a month.

Gov. HOLDEN's message, which suggests nothing specifically as the work of the convention, is talked of by all parties as a shrewd non-committal document. He has his oar in, however, through the business, of which Mr. MOORE, of this county, is chairman.

E. P. B.

Opening the State Constitutional Convention.

From Our Own Correspondent.

RALEIGH, N. C., Thursday, Oct. 5, 1865.

The ball opened to-day in earnest. As I predicted yesterday, the forces of the different parties were marshaled, and the battle commenced. On taking up the ordinance reported by Mr. BOYDEN's committee, declaring the secession ordinance of May 20, 1861, to be null and void, and that it always has been, Mr. FEREBEE, of Camden, presented a substitute, declaring that the ordinance of Nov. 21, 1787, is in full force and effect, and that the ordinance of the 20th of May, 1861, "is null, and the same is hereby repealed, rescinded and abrogated;" whereupon a debate arose, which lasted for several hours, between the "null and voiders" and the "repealers," both of which parties represent the conflicting elements of the convention. The "repealers" include in their ranks those who are called Secessionists, their ordinance having been introduced by a former Colonel of the rebel army. The "null and voiders" are called stiff-backed Union men in this community, and carry the biggest guns in the convention.

Mr. MANLY, of Craven, looked on the substitute as a compromise, and for the first time during the session the division of party lines commenced to develop itself. He held that the language of the committee's ordinance was unusual, and was uncourteous toward the grave and distinguished convention of 1861, and that there was no precedent for it in the records of the State. There was unnecessary verbiage in the document. It nullifies the action of the convention of '61, and is an unusual mode of abrogating an obnoxious law which is to be repealed on account of its unconstitutionality or as a matter of expediency. The convention of '61 knew at the time they passed their ordinance that it would be followed by wrr, and their deliberations were solemn and careful as the responsibilities of the case demanded. In passing the ordinance they declared that there was a power inherent in the people of North Carolina to secede from the United States Government. If we can use language which is not discourteous to them it is our duty to do so.

Mr. BOYDEN, chairman of the committee which presented the null and void ordinance, thought it a matter of great importance to the State that the identical language of the ordinance should be adhered to by all means. By so doing we effect the grand object for which the convention was called. Before 1861 we had our true and legitimate position in the Union, and no man in or out of Congress could deny us any of our rights as a State in the United States. There are those who desire to keep us from our rights now, and it is of the utmost importance to declare that the ordinance of 1787 has been legally in force during the past four years, and thereby we are now entitled to our rights, and that we have been temporarily deprived of them by an unlawful military power. The authorities at Washington insist that we have never been out of the Union, and we must meet them on that point. In closing his speech, which laid out the policy of the null-and-voiders, Mr. BOYDEN said: "The people of the South have never felt the Constitution of the United States only as a blessing, and God grant that we may be restored to its protecting folds. Let the secession ordinance be buried so deep that the hand of resurrection may never reach it." This remark was greeted with great applause.

Mr. FEREBEE, of Camden, formerly a colonel of a rebel regiment from North Carolina, announced that he had always been opposed to secession, and referred to the condition of the State immediately previous to the seceding convention of 1861. The feeling which swept down all opposition and inaugurated the war was the production of years. He referred to the convention of 1861 as the ablest body that ever met in the State, and argued that the results of their deliberations were entitled to great respect. They passed the ordinance of secession with perfect unanimity, and the people of North Carolina ratified it by fighting for it. Will you now stigmatize your own dead? He continued at some length in support of the substitute.

Mr. ODORN said the principle of coercion has been firmly established. The war has taught us that the Federal Government is something more than a rope of sand. I do not fear another attempt to dissolve the Union. It is too strongly cemented with blood, the shedding of which blood has rendered secession odious for all time to come. I care not how strong the language of the ordinance is, so that it stamps on the miserable heresy of secession the odium of degradation that it deserves. The leaders of the rebellion had ruled the country for years; they said they were able to save the country, but they didn't do it. They couldn't brook defeat. So when Mr. LINCOLN was elected they undertook to erect a gallows as high as Haman's, on which to hang the United States Government and Mr. LINCOLN, but are likely to get hung themselves. They had rather rule in hell than serve in heaven. He was not a member of the convention of '61, but if he had been he thought that he could swallow this pill and that it would not kill him.

Mr. HOWARD, of Wilson, a Judge in Confederate times, favored the substitute, and throughout the whole day's debate was its warmest supporter. He was a member of the convention of 1861 and signed the secession ordinance, heartily believing it to be a charter of rights to the citizens of North Carolina which should be protected.

Mr. POOL, of Bertie, favored the original ordinance, and placed the difference between it and the substitute bluntly, on grounds of right and wrong. He held that the State had never been out of the Union, and that it is now entitled to its rights. He thought that this was the declaration of the committee's ordinance, whereas if the substitute is adopted the State would acknowledge herself out of the Union, and could rightfully be treated as a subjugated province, kneeling at the feet of a conqueror pleading for mercy.

Mr. POOL was followed by several others, but as the above synopsis contains all the argumentative points advanced, I refrain from sending them.

Mr. CALDWELL, of Guilford, in a speech supporting the report of the committee, said that he had held out to the last in favor of Union, and until he had heard bullets whistle about his head, and had been rotten-egged for his advocacy of the cause of the Union.

Mr. HOWARD—Did any of the members of this convention rotten-egg you.

CALDWELL—No, I did not say that you did; but your disciples did.

Mr. CALDWELL then went on denouncing the leaders of the rebellion and stated that he had been forced into camp and made to do double duty, and had been taunted while performing it, on account of his Unionism. The gentlemen talk about discourtesy; they did not think of it then.

Mr. FEREBEE, of Camden—Does the gentleman apply his remarks to me.

Mr. CALDWELL—Not to you personally, nor to any member of this convention; but I wish to make myself understood as plainly denouncing the leaders of the rebellion—and he did it.

Previous to this debate, an ordinance was presented from the committee appointed for that purpose forever abolishing slavery except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall be duly convicted.

A resolution was introduced indorsing in the strongest terms the policy of President JOHNSON and Gov. HOLDEN. An attempt was made to rush it through by suspending the rules, but it failed.

An important amendment to the State Constitution was offered and referred; also an ordinance ratifying certain laws passed during the war, including all those not incompatible with the allegiance of the State to the United States Government.

The convention adjourned to meet to-morrow at 10 o'clock, when the debate on the two ordinances will be resumed. It is generally thought that the ordinance reported by the committee will be adopted.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The General Assembly of the Protestant Episcopal Church—Change in the Canons—Messages from the House of Bishops.

From Our Special Correspondent.

FOURTH DAY.

PHILADELPHIA, Saturday, Oct. 7, 1865.

The convention was opened by the usual exercises. The services were led by Rev. Dr. WATERMAN, of Rhode Island, and Rev. Dr. CLARKSON, of Illinois. Bishop HOPKINS, of Vermont, pronounced the benediction. The musical portion of the services were, if anything, still better than those of yesterday, being singularly harmonious and impressive. Rev. Mr. KEITH presided at the organ, the choir being composed, as yesterday, exclusively of clergymen.

The session opened with reports from committees, the roll being dispensed with. The Committee on Elections reported that the testimonials from dioceses represented in convention were all in due form; that credentials had been received from all dioceses in the country except Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia. The Committee on Church Education requested members wishing to offer suggestions on the subject to communicate with them. A resolution to that effect was adopted.

On motion of the Secretary, the convention proceeded to the election of Treasurer, making that position a permanent one. The retiring Treasurer, HERMAN COPE, Esq., being nominated, and no other name being offered, that gentleman was unanimously elected.

A memorial from Indiana, relative to approval of appointment of Bishop TALBOT, was disposed of by a special committee, to which was also committed a message from the House of Bishops, approving said appointment. The order of business being thus exhausted the resolution on the looking toward a more rigid system of receiving applicants for holy orders, Dr. HARE, of Pennsylvania, thought the present system loose, and he offered a resolution committing the considering of this important subject to a special committee of five. In doing so Dr. HARE said the canons as they now exist were faulty, as they were carried through one convention. Dr. MEADE, Chairman of the Committee on Canons, corrected the delegate from Pennsylvania, showing from the record the fact that they had received all due attention. He thought some heads so thick that nothing could be made clear to them. Considerable skirmishing ensued, which was however cut short by the announcement of

ANOTHER MESSAGE FROM THE BISHOPS.

This document was as follows:

Resolved, That this House do ask of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies to concur in the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, It has come to the knowledge of the bishops, clergy and laity of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, in general convention assembled, that the bishops and clergy of the Province of Canterbury, in the United Church of England and Ireland, have desired the primates of all England to express their hearty admiration of the courage, firmness and devoted love of the truth of the gospel as this church has received the same, which have been manifested by Right Rev. HORATIO GRAY, Bishop of Capetown and Metropolitan of South Africa, and the bishops who assembled with him in dealing with the sad defection from Christian doctrine, by which one of the bishops of that province had become notorious, and have declared their thanks to these Right Reverend brethren for the noble stand made by them against heretical and false doctrine, and their trust that even out of the present difficulties and embarrassments surrounding the church in South Africa, it may please God to provide some safeguard for the maintenance of the faith once for all committed to the saints.

Resolved, That the said bishops, clergy and laity deem it due to the holy cause in which the Right Reverend, the Metropolitan and other Bishops of the church in South Africa, have borne such timely and efficient testimony in face of so great difficulties, to declare our hearty concurrence in the expression of admiration, thanks and trust made by the Convocation of Canterbury, and desire the Secretaries of the Houses of Bishops and of Clerical and Lay Deputies, to communicate to His Grace, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and to the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Capetown, duly attested copies of this resolution.

This interesting document having been read, the house went more quietly to work on the subject before the convention. Several caustic remarks previously uttered by debaters were kindly explained. Rev. Dr. CUMMINGS, of Chicago, made a powerful speech on the necessity of a more elevated code of canons, and thought the mother Church of England far ahead of the American Church. The matter was again interrupted by which was as follows:

"The House of Bishops is satisfied that Rev. RICHARD HOOKER WILMER, D. D., has been validly consecrated to the office of a Bishop, having been elected to the exercise of that office in the vacant Diocese of Alabama; and that, without examination of the circumstances occasioning certain canonical irregularities in the election and consecration, and expressly declaring that its present action shall never be construed or accepted as a precedent, this House hereby accepts Right Rev. Dr. WILMER as Bishop of Alabama, and consents to his episcopate as such; provided that the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies is willing to signify its concurrence in such acceptance and consent, and that thereafter the Bishop of Alabama shall transmit in writing to the presiding Bishop, to be by him committed to the custody of the Register of this House, the promise of conformity comprised in the office for the consecration of a Bishop in the Ordinal."

The President said that the Secretary of the House of Bishops had a paper to read from that body ex officio, and not to be entered on the journal. It read as follows:

Resolved, That we do hereby express to the Bishops of Alabama our fraternal regrets at the issual of his late pastoral letter, and assured confidence that no further occasion for such regrets will occur.

I bow to the request of the House of Bishops, and omit it.

The subject of candidates entering holy office having received considerable discussion and so many amendments that the matter became so confused that the convention ordered it as the special order for Monday.

Unfinished business now coming up, the altering of the canons and forbidding the clergy to take up arms was again discussed. No new features were elicited during the debate, although the general sense of the house seemed in favor of forbidding clergymen to enter the battle-field and shedding blood. Dr. MEADE thought the proposed ordinance would not place the church in antagonistic attitude to the government; it was wrong for a clergyman or candidate for holy orders to take the sword in hand; other Christian offices were open to them.

A motion to lay the matter on the table was lost, but the discussion was arrested by a motion to adjourn. After the customary notices were read the convention adjourned.

FROM CHICAGO.

American Board of Foreign Missions.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1865.

The fifty-fifth annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions opened in Bryan Hall, in this city, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by President HOPKINS, and the session opened with prayer by Dr. HICKOCK, of Union College. The attendance is large from all parts of the country, and there have been numerous arrivals this morning, and more are expected by every train, from all quarters. From present appearances there will be as large an attendance as at any former meeting of the board.

After some preliminary arrangements, the appointment of local committees of arrangements, the annual report of the Prudential Committee was read. This document embraces a résumé of the operations of the board during the year. I append a few principal items:

Prior to August, it was very doubtful whether the financial year would have a favorable termination or not. On the morning of that day $71,000 of the sum needed for the closing month were lacking. From that time, however, the current was strong and full, and it may be mentioned, as a matter of interest, (and not without its bearing on the question of special appeals,) that more than $40,000, intended for the last financial year, were received after Aug. 31. The entire income of the year has been as follows: From donations, $440,066 45; from legacies, $76,633 03; from other sources, $18,065 45: making a total of $534,763 33. Adding the balance in the treasury Sept. 1, 1864, and deducting the disbursements, $537,001 78, (including the large amount paid for exchange, at an average advance of 71½ per cent.,) we have a balance in the treasury of $1,147 89. The committee feel that the thanks of the board are due to those friends who have assisted so kindly—some by large pecuniary offerings, some by personal endeavors—in securing this result, and above all to Him who has furnished, during three long years of trials and fears, the means of carrying forward the work which He has submitted to His people.

It will be noticed that the income of the board now reported is greater than that of any previous year; that the donations are $11,535 71 in excess of those of any previous year; that while the legacies are less than those of last year, they are $6,633 03 above the estimate made at Worcester.

The District Secretaries, as also the fields which they occupy, remain unchanged, as follows:

Northern New-England: Maine, New-Hampshire, and Vermont—Rev. William Warren, Gorham, Me.

Southern New-England: Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island—Rev. John P. Skeele, Hartford, Conn.

New-York City: New-York City, Long Island, Eastern New-York, and East Jersey—The care of this district is among the duties devolving on Dr. Wood.

Philadelphia: Pennsylvania, West Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia—Rev. John McLeod, Philadelphia.

Ohio and Indiana: Ohio, Indiana, Southern Illinois, and Missouri—Rev. Elisha Ballantine, Cincinnati, O.

Northwestern District: Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Northern Illinois—Rev. S. J. Humphrey, Chicago, Ill.

In concluding, the committee say:

"Our civil war found us with an unembarrassed treasury; it has left us with an unembarrassed treasury. Humbly, gratefully, let us express our joy in 'a song of degrees.' 'When the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing; then said they among the brethren, the Lord hath done great things for them. The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.'"

In view of this state of things, of the blessings of God upon the labors of the past year, the President called upon Dr. ADAMS to return thanks to Almighty God for these especial favors.

The usual abstract of the board was then read by Dr. ANDERSON. It is a long document, and gives a detailed description of the various missions maintained by the board. The following is the summary:

After the receipt of some invitations, the making of arrangements for future meetings, &c., the board took a recess until evening.

EVENING SESSION—ANNUAL SERMON.

At an early hour Bryan Hall was occupied in every available part, the vast multitude drawn thither to hear the eloquent Dr. KIRK, of Boston, who was appointed to preach the annual sermon.

After the preliminary exercises, Dr. KIRK announced his subject to be "Christian Missions—a Work of Faith," and his text, "We walk by Faith, not by Sight."—2 Corinthians, v. 7.

It may be taken for granted that the discourse was an able one; but it was more—it was profoundly a spiritual one—full of evangelical truth. He opened by remarking that "Faith is not here opposed to sight absolutely, but to the walking by sight. Sight has its proper sphere: being competent to guide in the lower departments of life, but wholly insufficient to direct our steps in all that pertains to our higher faculties and relations and to our eternal destiny. The man who walks by faith walks with God, as Enoch did. The man who walks by sight walks with the world. He who walks by faith walks with Abraham toward the 'city that hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.' He who walks by sight, unless his course be changed, will never enter within its blessed gates.

Sight can guide us in selecting nourishment, clothing, shelter and comfort for the body, but cannot show us the path of eternal life; it can see man, but not God; earth, but not Heaven.

The men who walk by sight complain of the decree that their salvation shall be conditioned on their faith, and not on their good works. But it is so, even in worldly matters. The man who sows his field or freights his ship does it by faith. If he had bestowed all his goods to feed the poor, that would not inspire the confidence which sends the ship to a country he never saw, which lies at the basis of agriculture and commerce.

These persons also who walk by sight, walk in a world which they consider to be real, while they regard as visionary the views and operations of faith. They see but two forces in the world—the mechanical powers of nature, and the attractive power of 'the things which perish in the using.' To them the objects of faith are the stuff of which dreams are made.

I shall now attempt, by an examination of the nature and the actions of faith, to vindicate it before unbelievers, and to quicken it in the hearts of believers."

A copy of the sermon was given for publication, but it is too long to give a fair synopsis. It urged a more vigorous prosecution of the mission work, and the exercise of a more perfect, as regards final results. The conclusion was as follows:

"Truly we are in the rushing current. Faith is the want of the times; to see the Lord Jesus Christ in these mighty revolutions, to anticipate His movements; to meet Him in the attitude of consecration and prayer; that is what is demanded of the signs of the times.

Brethren, guard then your faith. Recognize its insidious foes. Remember that the very companionship of unbelief has its perils. It sees nothing as faith sees. 'Be ye not unequally yoked with unbelievers.'

Rationalism full of self-conceit and learned folly, science perverted, shallow philosophy, worldliness, selfishness in a thousand subtle forms, are the antagonists of your faith. Watch them. Keep the citadel for your Lord—His banner ever waving over it.

Guard your faith; keep it fresh and vigorous by much converse with its own peculiar themes, by much power, by conference with believing souls, by following its imitations, by the self-denying acts to which it calls, by consecrating yourselves, your property, your children to the work of saving the lost souls of men. Take the cause of Christ closer to your heart, and say: 'Money shall not be lacking. If the Lord prosper us, we will give as freely as we receive.'

Take the missionary cause on your heart, and say: 'It shall never falter again, if God will help us. The word "retrenchment" must never be written to another missionary already discouraged by the want of means to prosecute his work. There must be no more spasms of zeal, but steady work.'

Let our consecrated young men and young women say: 'Here am I, Lord, send me.'

Let us have a robust faith at home, so expressing itself that the heathen shall hear its boastings in the Lord, and the missionaries shall feel its invigorating pulse. This is our purpose. 'We are going to fight on this line till we have conquered;' and the kingdom and dominion, and until the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, for 'all dominions shall serve and obey him.'"

A grand choir of at least two thousand voices joined in singing

"All hail the power of Jesus' name," to the tune of "Coronation," which closed the exercises of the day.

LEGAL.

Admiralty Practice—Setting Aside Sale of Vessel—Default—Proceeds of Sails Sold by Master to be Brought into Court.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK.

Before Hon. Judge Benedict.

William H. Birchard vs. The Schooner George Prescott—Josiah Raymond and Others vs. the Same.—The schooner George Prescott was libeled on the 14th day of August last by Robert Johnson, her master, and six of her crew, to recover wages for services in navigating her. Subsequently, on the same day, William H. Birchard filed his libel against the same vessel, her tackle, &c., to recover certain advances alleged to have been made for the purchase of supplies. On the 12th day of August, Benj. R. Luddington and others filed their libels to recover a bottomry debt. Subsequently, on the same day, Jas. M. Hicks and others filed their libel for supplies furnished. On the 15th of August Josephus F. Packer and others filed their libel for advances, and on the 30th of August Peter McEnary, pilot, filed a petition for pilotage. On the return of the various processes, no one appearing to defend in any of the actions, an interlocutory decree was made in each cause and a reference ordered to ascertain the amount due the respective libelants, and upon the coming in of the report a final decree was rendered in each cause and the vessel condemned to be sold, reserving, however, the question of distribution for the further order of the court. A venditioni exponas was accordingly issued, and on the 14th day of September the vessel was sold by the Marshal to Packer, one of the libelants, who had filed the fourth libel against the vessel, for a sum insufficient to pay the various claims.

On the day following the sale application was made to the court in behalf of Birchard, who had filed the second libel, to set aside the sale and open the decrees made in favor of the master and crew upon affidavits tending to show among other things that the amounts claimed by the seamen had been paid them; that no wages were due the master; that the bottomry bond had been paid and discharged before suit was brought on it; that the master, Johnson, and J. Penniman Smith had removed from the vessel her sails and bedding, of considerable value, and so disposed of the same that it had not been seized by the Marshal, and that the vessel had thus been sold, stripped of her sails and bedding, with intent to defraud the parties having liens, and defeat them in the enforcement of the claims made in court against the vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture. A monition was accordingly issued citing Johnsen and Smith to appear and show cause why they should not produce the sails and bedding of the vessel, and an order made directing all parties interested to show cause why the sale should not be set aside and the decrees in favor of the master and seamen opened, so as to allow the material men to come in and contest those claims.

Upon the return of the order and monition the master and crew and the purchaser of the vessel at the Marshal's sale, appeared and submitted the affidavits tending to contradict the statements made in the moving papers. By consent of all parties the affidavits of Johnson (the master) and of Smith were taken as their answer to the petition and monition against them.

By the Court—The relief demanded by Birchard upon this application is threefold. He asks, in the first instance, that the sale of the vessel made by the Marshal be set aside, and the vessel remanded into custody to abide the result of this action against her. Without discussing what may be the power of the court to set aside a judicial sale of a vessel which has been sold without her sails to a purchaser who was one of the parties libeling, and who, with knowledge of the other claims pending against her, bought her for a sum insufficient to pay all, I am of the opinion that this part of the application must fail in this case for the reason that it is not made to appear upon the proof that the vessel did not bring a full price. The evidence before me is that the full value of the vessel, excluding the value of her sails, was bid, and that amount has been paid into the registry, where it now is subject to the order of the court. Upon such a state of facts I decline to disturb the sale.

The libelant, Birchard, further asks that the decrees entered in favor of the mastar and crew be opened, and he allowed to contest these claims. This is opposed upon the ground that the claims are clearly just and due, and further that the decrees were regularly taken in presence of Birchard, with full knowledge on his part of their character, and that, by omitting to apply to contest until after the final decrees were entered, he has waived all right now to dispute them.

In cases like the present where several libels are filed against the same vessel, to pay which the proceeds turn out to be insufficient, and no owner appearing, and where one of the libelants, finding the proceeds insufficient to pay his demands, asks to be allowed to show that claims otherwise liable to be paid out of the fund in preference to his own are not justly due, the application is seldom if ever denied. There is, in truth, no time before the actual sale of the vessel when any libelant can know that his interest will be prejudiced by decrees rendered in favor of other libelants, or that any adverse action on his part will be required to secure the payment of his demand. Whether any one other than the owner, and if any what one, will be compelled to contest the claims seeking to be first paid, can only be known when the gross amount of the demands is ascertained and the amount applicable to their payment known by the result of the sale. It is undoubtedly more strictly regular for each libelant in cases like the present, upon the return of the processes, to reserve before the court his right to contest the demands of the other libelants when the result of the sale should disclose the necessity; but this is often omitted, and decrees more often rendered upon the understanding that they do not cut off any right of any lebelant before the court. Here the application was made on the day subsequent to the sale, and on the same day on which the money was paid into the Registry; and the positions of the various actions, with the further fact admitted by the master that he had expressed to Burchard the opinion that the vessel, if sold as she was, would bring an amount nearly if not quite equal to the amount necessary to insure the payment of Birchard's claim, clearly warrants the court in holding him free from laches, and allowing him time to contest the demands of the master and seamen if he show good ground of defence. This, however, he fails to do, so far as relates to the claims of the mate and seamen. The affidavits satisfy me that the mate and men have never been paid, and their lien cannot be questioned. The application to open the decrees made in favor of the mate and seamen must, therefore, be denied.

In regard to the demands of the master the facts are different. His right to a lien is disputed; and I am not satisfied, upon the proofs as they stand, that the amount claimed is due him, and it seems proper that the other parties interested in the fund should be allowed to contest his demand. The decree made in favor of the master is, therefore, opened, and Birchard allowed to come in and contest it. Birchard further asks, under the provisions of the 8th Admiralty rule, for an order directing the master, Johnson, and J. Penniman Smith, to produce and deliver to the Marshal the sails and bedding of the vessel.

The affidavit of Johnson, by consent taken as his answer and defence to this application, sets up that before the vessel was seized by the Marshal he took her four large sails and also some bedding; that the bedding was his private property, and no part of the apparel and furniture of the vessel; that he has sold the sails for $600, and has not the possession or control of them, and is ignorant of their whereabouts; that he has a mortgage upon the vessel for $1,000, and under its provisions he had the right to take and sell the sails and appropriate the proceeds. The answer omits to state how long before the seizure of the vessel the sails were removed, nor does it state when they were sold nor to whom they were delivered. Now, whatever rights in this property the master may have by virtue of his mortgage, it is evident that he cannot be permitted in this way to adjudicate for himself upon them to the prejudice of seamen, material men and bottomry creditors' claims—liens upon the same property as part of the vessel. If he had the right before seizure by the Marshal to take possession of the property by virtue of his mortgage, still the claims of the various lien creditors attach to it in his hands as well as to the hull; and the right to have it taken, condemned and sold, and the proceeds applied under the order of the court, cannot thus be defeated; and this right of lien creditors, which attached to the vessel herself, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and to every part thereof, in cases where the property has been sold or disposed of so that it cannot be reached in specie by the process of the court, may be enforced against the proceeds of the property, in whose hands soever it may be found, and either by the order of the court or by its judgment and decree. Such has often been the action of Courts of Admiralty. (The Harmoni, 1 W. Rob., p. 179, Coctes Pr., p. 97.) See also Pitman vs. Hooper, (3 Sum., pp. 50 and 805,) when, before Judge Story, an action in the nature of a proceeding in rem against the proceeds of a vessel was maintained some twenty-eight years after the performance of the service, and when the fund proceeded against was the sum then first awarded by a foreign government for the seizure and sale of a vessel twenty-eight years previous.

As this master then concedes that he took the property in question, has sold it, and now has the proceeds in his possession, he must be required to pay such proceeds into the registry, there to be subjected to such claims as may be held to be valid liens upon this vessel.

With regard to the proceeding, as against Smith, I think a full examination of the facts attending his connection with the disposition of this property is necessary before making any order against him. I shall therefore direct a reference to a commissioner, to ascertain and report as to the truth of the allegations made against him.

In thus disposing of the various applications made in behalf of the libelant Birchard, I have in no way passed upon the validity of his claim as against this fund. That claim the master may contest if so advised, and the decree made in favor of Birchard will be opened for that purpose.

Neither have I passed upon the effect of evidence tending to show some understanding between Birchard and the master that the claims of the master should be first paid. All these questions I leave to be disposed of when they arise upon the hearing of the cause, or upon the motion to determine the priority of the various libelants.

I also reserve the questions of the costs of entering the decrees now set aside till the final order of distribution.

Let an order be entered in accordance with the views expressed in this opinion.

Benedict, Burr and Benedict for the motion; Emerson, Goodrich & Knowlton for master and crew, and other parties interested.

MONDAY, Oct. 9—A. M.

The Trade of the past week opened somewhat dull in the Dry Goods line, but improved, and manifested renewed activity in both Domestic and Foreign fabrics at the close. In General Merchandise a good business continues to be done. The Customs duties of the week are very large; a large portion are Dry Goods and General Merchandise not yet discharged from the French and other steamers. The demand for

Gold for Customs for the week is	$3,690,916
Against Gold Interest paid out	1,384,037
Difference to Treasury at New-York	$2,306,879

The price of Gold was advanced to 147@149 ₩ cent. on Thursday and Friday, but subsequently fell back to 146⅜ ₩ cent. The continued very heavy demand to pay Customs was rather unexpected, but the week will probably prove an exceptional one for October. The steamer cargoes which arrived were both numerous and valuable. The Customs on Thursday, after the Persia arrived, were $628,614; and on Friday, after the French steamer Lafayette, they were $883,245.

The Export movement continues light, both in Specie and Produce, but late in the week the transactions in Cotton were very heavy, and a good share for export. The transactions at New-Orleans are also reported heavy by telegraph, and on a stock increased to 107,000 bales, the largest known at that port since the troubles of 1861. There is now sufficient confidence felt in the Liverpool market to induce free shipments, both from New-Orleans and New-York, and it is reasonably safe to anticipate that this movement will soon be materially felt on our weekly Export returns and the supply of Exchange on London. The latter has not been fully advanced to the point for shipping Gold, notwithstanding the comparatively light clearances of Cotton and other Produce. The transmissions of U. S. 5-20s were not important early in the week, but some considerable parcels were drawn against for Saturday's steamers.

The funding of Compound Legal-Tenders commenced on Monday last, and the subsequent buoyant speculation in the Railways at the Stock Exchange have advanced the price of Money to 7 ₩ cent. The receipts of Cotton keep up to 22,000@25,000 ₩ week, and the emigrant arrivals from Germany and Ireland have increased to upward of 6,000 ₩ week.

The Import Entries of the past week, including the Dry Goods return in our last paper, amount to $4,288,947, as against the total entries of $3,247,663, same week last year. The Export Clearances of Domestic Produce amount to $2,418,527, against $3,622,350 same week last year. The export of Specie amounts to $316,092, against $287,758 same week last year. The Customs for the week are $3,690,916. The receipts of Cotton, coastwise and by railroad, are 22,866 bales. The number of emigrant passengers arrived during the week is 6,182.

The price of Gold was steadier Saturday than on Friday. The fluctuations were between 146⅝@146¼@146⅜ ₩ cent. The speculating "ring" in the Gold Room, who in the absence of Government Sales, while large Customs receipts were being received into the Treasury, manipulated the market from 144½ to 149 ₩ cent. can at least claim the success of frightening a portion of the Short interest into buying, on Friday, at the top rates.

The market for money at 6@7 per cent. on call to the Stock Brokers is fully established. There was a good supply from lenders, Saturday, at the advanced rate, and less said on the Street of the sharp turn in the market.

The export of Gold and Silver, for the week, is $316,092, of which $183,700 went out by the day's steamers.

The sales of Government Stocks at the Stock Exchange were an ⅛@¼ ₩ cent. easier than on Friday. The Railway speculation was exceedingly feverish, and prices were generally weaker than at Friday's Second Board, though not generally lower than the later quotations of that day on Broad-street. After the adjournment of the Board, the inclination was to recover, and by 3 o'clock, on the Street, the following figures were made as compared with Friday, P. M. There was much excitement on the rally from the morning sales:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

On Saturday very little testimony was taken before the Wirz Military Commission. Most of the session was occupied by Judge-Advocate CHIPMAN with an argument against the admission of the testimony of Gens. Lee and Johnston, Howell Cobb, Mallory, Moore, Commissioner Ould and others, for the defence, on the ground that they were conspirators with WIRZ. Dr. JOSEPH JONES, of the Georgia Medical College, was then placed on the stand, and produced a report which he made, under permission of the rebel authorities, concerning the diseases, &c., at Andersonville. It appears that his object was to illustrate facts relative to gangrene, malarial fevers, and camp and other diseases. The report shows the frightful mortality—the number of deaths, during one period, being as large in the stockade as in the hospital. He describes the men as miserable, hopeless, and abject in the extreme. Very many of them were mere skeletons, incrusted with dirt and covered with vermin. Some of them cursed their own government for refusing to an exchange of prisoners. It was, he said, impossible to depict the scene. Capt. GILMORE, on duty at Norfolk, testified as to the seizure of watches, silver spoons, forks, watch-chains, lockets, photographs, &c., taken from a man named GARRISON on the eastern shore of Virginia, who claimed to be counsel for R. B. WINDER. The court adjourned until next Thursday morning.

The papers are circulating a proposed amendment to the Constitution, which contemplates the constant succession of the Vice-President to the Presidency. A President and Vice-President are elected. At the end of four years, the former retires and the latter takes his place. Of course at each subsequent election, only a Vice-President is chosen. In this way the one-term rule is adopted; the Vice-President is selected with special reference to his fitness for the first position; and for four years he is being educated for the vast responsibilities he is to assume.

The Illinois State Journal of the 5th inst. says a resident of Union County, in that State, has two hundred acres of fine cotton, which he fears will be lost for want of laborers to pick it, as a large number of the inhabitants are, at the present time, sick. He wishes to hire colored help from Cairo, to secure the crop, but fears he will not be permitted to do so unless protected by the authorities, as the people in that section are opposed to the introduction of colored laborers.

Election returns from Mississippi no longer leave a doubt as to the election of Gen. HUMPHREYS as Governor of the State. His opponent, Judge FISHER, has declared his intention of urging upon the President his immediate pardon. It is thought by many that Gov. SHARKEY's opinion that the action of the State Convention conferred on negroes the right of giving testimony in courts of justice, will defeat him for the United States Senate.

The Planters' Convention met on the 4th inst. in New-Orleans, and discussed the subject of the broken levees. The convention petitioned Gov. WELLS and Gen. CANBY to assist them with aid from the State and General Government, so that they could make the necessary repairs. Both gentlemen promised to give their attention to the matter.

The First District of Columbia Colored Regiment returned to Washington, yesterday afternoon, from the South. Their appearance on the street attracted immense crowds of spectators of their own complexion particularly. Their colored fellow-citizens will give them a formal reception and dinner, to-day, at the Campbell Hospital.

Gov. GIBBS, of Oregon, has issued a proclamation calling a special session of the Legislature for the 5th of December. The object of the session is not stated in the telegram announcing the fact. The Oregon State Fair commenced at Salem on the 2d inst. The exhibition of goods and the list of stock were larger than ever before.

The negroes of Alexandria, Va., have formed a Coal Protective Association, and now buy whole cargoes, at a great saving from monopolist prices. Some prominent white citizens have gladly purchased from the association.

Immense herds of cattle are pouring into Louisiana from Texas, and the price of beef in New-Orleans has fallen 15 cents. In other parts of the State the price ranges from seven to ten cents per pound.

The deficiencies of Southern Postmasters holding Federal appointments at the breaking out of the war, amounted to nearly $160,000. Preparations are being made to enforce collection.

Heavy and continued rains have done much damage to the crops in Louisiana.

Gen. HOWARD, of the Freedmen's Bureau, strongly favors the holding of a National Cotton Convention next month, to do something toward securing a large crop next year.

The Tunisian Ambassador and suite did not leave their hotel yesterday, but passed the day in strict observance of the Sabbath.

GEORGE W. WALLING, of Pittsburgh, Penn., an alleged murderer, was arrested in this city on Saturday evening, by Detective Officer IRVING, of the Twentieth Ward.

The Louisville Press says that guerrilla parties are making much trouble in Kentucky. The pretext most of these bushwhackers make, is resistance to the United States revenue laws.

Some bonded warehouses were destroyed by fire yesterday, in Philadelphia, by which 4,000 barrels of coal were lost; whole loss, $96,000; insured for $50,000.

The President has given up his proposed visit to Richmond and the Carolinas, and has discharged the vessel held ready for him.

The newspaper publishers of Southern Illinois are in convention "for the purpose of self protection from all kinds of swindlers."

The Valley Virginian is the name of a new daily paper shortly to be started at Staunton, Va., by Major A. M. GARBER.

The Synod of Virginia met at Lynchburgh on Wednesday. A large number of ministers were in attendance from various Presbyteries of the State.

A new counterfeit $10 greenback legal-tender note is out. It is said to be badly executed, especially the red seal and border.

A new weekly paper is soon to be started at Warrenton, Va., to be called the Virginia Sentinel.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. J. STELLIFER MOULTON, the New-York correspondent of the Boston Traveler, was turned over by Justice DODGE, on Saturday afternoon, to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, to be committed to the Lunatic Asylum. Mr. MOULTON styles himself "Stellifer, the King, Reigning Prince of the House of David, and Guardian of American Destiny."

Saturday morning a gravel train on the Harlem Railroad ran into a team which was driven by Mr. JOHN ROSS at the intersection of Fourth-avenue and Fifty-fourth-street. Mr. ROSS was severely wounded, his horse was killed, and his wagon was shattered.

The Customs Revenue of the port during the week reached $3,663,781.

Gold 146⅜ on Saturday. Money 7 ℔ cent. The Railway speculation lower in the morning, but rallied in the afternoon.

The past has been an unusually active week in Cotton, the sales and resales having amounted to 5?,000 bales, or an average of 8,666 bales a day. The week's receipts reached 22,866 bales. The demand was largely speculative. Prices of middling grades advanced 6c.@7c. ℔ lb. during the week.

A less active demand prevailed on Saturday for the principal kinds of produce and merchandise, prices of which opened buoyantly, but closed, in most instances, in favor of purchasers. The rise in the price of money and the fall in gold tended decidedly to check speculative operations. Freights were inactive, with 469 vessels of all classes in port.

The Democratic Party and Public Faith.

The old Romans used to say that though you may expel nature with a pitchfork, 'twill be back upon you. With Democratic nature it is plainly so. It was driven out with a sharp stick at the State Convention, but here it is again plump upon us:

> "We regard the exemption of government securities, being equal to nearly one-fourth of the whole property of the country from taxation, is a most unjust discrimination against the rights of the masses of the people, tending to create a monied aristocracy in our midst—'to make the rich richer, and the poor poorer,' and to weaken the obligations of public faith; and we pledge ourselves to increasing efforts to secure such a change of national and State laws as will insure equal taxation upon all, including government securities without any exemption whatever."

Such was the concluding part of the fourth resolution of the great Democratic turn-out at Albany the other evening. It is a most notable falling-off from the high-pitched resolution of the State Convention, declaring that the interests and honor of the country are involved in the "faithful fulfillment of the pledge of the whole resources of the country to the payment of the public debt." The present Albany resolution is, in fact, nothing short of a discarding of the principle that the public creditors are to be treated according to agreement. They lent their money to the government on the express stipulation that the bonds they received in return should be subject only to certain limited taxation. That stipulation was explicitly set forth in the tax bill passed by Congress, and has every sanction which it is possible to give to any law of the land. It has been decided by the Supreme Court of the United States, both under Chief Justice MARSHALL and Chief Justice TANEY, that no national bonds are taxable by any other authority than by the National Government. A pledge has been given by the National Government not to exercise that power at all on certain bonds, and not beyond a fixed limit on certain other bonds. When the Albany Convention "pledges itself to increasing efforts to secure such a change of National and State laws as will secure equal taxation upon all, including government securities, without any exemption whatever," it pledges itself to labor for a violation of the public faith. There is no possible escape from this statement of the fact.

The government established its exemptions from full taxation, as an inducement for loans to it of the money which was absolutely necessary to the prosecution of the war on which its existence depended. It would be just as much a breach of faith in it to refuse to abide by those inducements, as it would be to repudiate the debt itself. No honest government could do it. No honest party could labor to have it done. Even a party which had so little principle as to labor against the war, ought to have principle enough to sustain the government in fulfilling the obligations contracted in the war. The distinction which the resolution seeks to make between the masses of the people, and what is called "a monied aristocracy" is as false in fact as it is contemptible in spirit. The government bonds are scattered among all classes. There are tens of thousands of widows, orphans and poor men who have their all in them. The loans were literally what they were named—popular loans; and, in a broad sense, it is the people who are the creditors of the Government. Yet this does not affect the principle. It is enough that the Government has pledged itself. It now matters not who the parties are to whom that pledge was given. It was made, and the consideration for it was duly received. It must now be kept. Nor will it be any great hardship. Most of these bonds have but two, three or four years to run before they will be redeemable; and by that time the credit of the Government will stand so high that new bonds can be issued at lower rates of interest than the present, and without any such exemptions and privileges as attach to the present. This will unquestionably be the course of the Government. The Democratic party, however much it may dishonor itself, may rely upon it that the people mean to maintain the honor of their Government unsullied.

The ground taken at this Albany gathering in respect to the public debt is the ground that has, for some time, been occupied by the Democrats of New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and of the Western States generally. The high position assumed by the Democratic State Convention on this matter, was simply the same kind of assumption that elevated all the other resolutions toward the Republican level. It was not true to Democratic nature, nor to the feeling actually cherished. It was forced for a purpose, and that purpose was to regain, if possible, the forfeited confidence of the people. Even as it was, that Convention did not have decision enough to pledge the party against any payment, in full or in part, of the Confederate debt. The Republican Convention did this in the most emphatic terms. The Democratic Convention preserved an ominous silence about it. Indeed, if the doctrine of a large portion of the Democratic party be true, that secession was forced upon the Southern States by the Northern Abolitionists, and that the Federal Government had no constitutional or moral right to coerce them back to its rule, the conclusion is unavoidable that the Confederate debt is even better sanctioned by justice than what we call the National debt, and that the latter ought not to be paid unless the former also is recognized. The Confederate debt mostly accrued from loans, by the Southern people, just as the national debt did by loans from the Northern people. If the Northern people were more in the wrong than the Southern, why should taxes be levied to pay them and not the Southern?

The laxity of the Democratic party in reference to the pledges given by the government to its bond-takers, does not promise well. Nobody can tell how much further it may go, if a party advantage should allure it. It may be set down as certain that it will be the aim of the party to form another close alliance, as soon as may be, with the South; and that, as of old, it would be ready to comply with any demand of the South. What the disposition of the South may be in respect to the national debt remains to be developed. If it should be unfavorable, it will be sure to shape the action of the Democratic party unfavorably. There is no safety but in holding fast to that party which vindicated the true principles of the constitution, and carried the war through to its triumphant issue. The people who sustained the party in that work, will sustain it in fulfilling to the last iota every public obligation incurred in its prosecution. They have pronounced the Democratic party unfit to be trusted with other public interests; most assuredly will they not trust that party with the public faith—the highest of all interests.

First Fiscal Quarter of Peace.

The Import trade of the United States for the first quarter of the current fiscal year—the first year of peace since 1860-61—has yielded to the Treasury the unprecedented sum in Gold of FIFTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS; that is, if we estimate for the outports the same relative per centage of Customs to the port of New-York as last year, to wit, twenty-eight per cent. of the whole, while New-York receives seventy-two per cent. of the whole. The original or gold value of the foreign goods actually marketed, or upon which these fifty millions of Customs revenue were paid in, is not far from one hundred millions, the average rate of duties being within a very small fraction of fifty per cent.

The value of foreign goods marketed during the quarter at New-York alone, and the gold customs collected thereon, were as follows, to which we subjoin the amount of gold interest on the public debt, paid out at New-York:

1865—New-York.	Imports Marketed	Customs paid in.	Gold Int. paid out.
July	$19,674,662	$9,808,190	$5,714,367
August	26,401,412	13,190,000	454,575
September	26,000,000	13,037,062	4,117,419
Total at N. York	$72,076,074	$36,035,652	$10,286,361
Est. outports	28,000,000	14,000,000	5,964,031
Total 1st quarter	$100,076,074	$50,035,652	$16,250,392*

*At the present rate of $65,001,570 per annum.

Of the gold surplus of the quarter at New-York, it would appear that about $21,567,000 had been converted into currency, to pay currency interest on the public debt—or otherwise disposed of under the discretionary power of the joint resolution of Congress of March, 1864—and $4,182,000 added to the gold balances in the New-York office, which stood on the 30th September $32,771,000, as against $28,589,000 on the 30th June.

If to the whole customs, as stated above, including the out ports, we add say ten millions derived by way of premium on that portion of the surplus disposed of during the quarter, we have from

Customs revenues in gold		$50,035,652
Premium on surplus converted		10,000,000
Together		$60,035,652
To pay:
Interest charge in gold	$16,250,392
Interest charge in currency	18,131,911*
		$34,382,303
Balance to general uses		$25,653,349
Add internal revenues of quarter		88,436,313
Total after providing interest		$114,089,662

*At present rate of $72,527,645 per annum.

We have only to add to this most encouraging exhibit of the first quarter of peace, that the opening week of the second quarter, Oct. 2 to Oct. 7 inclusive, yielded $11,499,009 in currency from internal taxation, (the country at large,) and $3,690,916 in gold from import duties at New-York alone.

VIVISECTION OF A CANARD.—The demolition of the villainous fiction attributing to Lieut.-Gen. GRANT the utterance of sundry wicked and foolish remarks concerning our Mexican relations, has been complete. We exposed its falsity from internal evidence as soon as it had got into print; but as the dispatch opened by announcing that its statements were "established beyond a doubt," the other proofs of its truthlessness become of interest, now that these proofs may be considered as having reached a satisfactory conclusion. The original telegram was at once minute and indefinite. It gave for authority a "distinguished Illinoisan" who had been in conversation with GRANT, and who repeated to a third party the remarks of GRANT. When the names of the unnamed individuals were demanded, we were furnished with those of Judge CATON, of Illinois, and Mr. SMITH, editor of the Chicago Tribune. No sooner had this been done, however, than Judge CATON, who happened to be in this city, published a card over his own signature, denying that GRANT had ever, in his presence, made the remarks attributed to him, and denying that he (CATON) had ever quoted such remarks in the presence of SMITH as coming from GRANT. In addition to this, the Chicago Tribune declares that the "SMITH referred to in the alleged conversation with Judge CATON is not the editor of that paper."

It must be admitted that these successive and authentic notes pretty effectually dispose of that sensational and speculative telegram.

We think it worth while to pursue these things to the termination, when it is in our power. We tried it with good effect in the case of the Rio Grande canards, which bade fair to afflict the land some three months ago, and we have attempted it in other instances, not without result. In time, we hope to get all the news so accurate that every word in the papers, or at least in the TIMES, will be accepted as verity by the entire community.

THE TRUTH AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH.—We wish that those gentlemen who take the trouble to give to the public the private remarks or opinions of distinguished public men, would be particularly careful to propagate accurate versions of such remarks or opinions. Incorrect reports not only injure the distinguished men who are their victims, but they mislead the community, and frequently give wrong directions to public sentiment. A prominent Eastern Abolitionist lately declared in a public speech that President JOHNSON, in a private conversation with the Governor of Missouri, made the remark: "This is a white man's country, and while I am President it shall be a white man's government." There is nothing particularly criminal about the remark in itself; but then it was not made by President JOHNSON to Gov. FLETCHER; and we are pleased that Gov. FLETCHER has taken the pains to set the matter right. He has authorized the statement that the President did not make the observation attributed to him, but as far as the Governor remembers, President JOHNSON used about the following words: "I am in favor of the white man," or, "I belong to the white man's party." Those who think that the Governor has peformed an unimportant labor in rectifying this matter, or who think that the corrected version amounts to the same thing as the other, have paid little attention to politics, opinions, logic or language.

We observe another instance of the same kind of loose statement, bearing against the eminent Whig politician of North Carolina, Hon. KENNETH RAYNOR. The Tribune published a Washington dispatch some time ago, setting forth that KENNETH RAYNOR had written a letter to a friend, "in which he states that unless the government compels the rebels to treat the freedmen with less cruelty, there will certainly be a rising of the negroes and bloody retaliation there." Mr. RAYNOR has just published a card in the North Carolina papers, in which he says:

> "I have written no such letter as the one thus spoken of. I wrote a letter, some weeks since, to an old Philadelphia friend, now in Washington, in which I attempted to describe to him the sad and impoverished condition of the South. But I said nothing of any cruelty with which the 'freedmen' were treated; nor did I say anything which could be so construed."

These are not small or trivial matters. They are matters deeply affecting the public morals. Laxity or falsity in statement, is twin-brother to laxity and falsity in life and action.

EASILY ANSWERED.—A correspondent of the Evening Post questions whether Mr. SEWARD properly couples, in his dispatches, "the United States" with a plural verb. The Post gives no definite reply, but seems inclined to think that Mr. SEWARD mistakes. It is enough to say that the Secretary of State, in entering State papers, ought not to violate the phraseology of the constitution. In the constitution, the name "United States" is used uniformly in the plural; as in the clause "Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies."

EUROPEAN SOCIAL REFORMS.

Health Officers.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LONDON, September, 1865.

I took occasion, recently, to make a round with a very experienced "health officer," in a West End parish which contains great extremes of both poverty and wealth. His object was to show me what matters the authorities attempted to control in London, in a sanitary way, and what they could not control. We went first to the ordinary "tenement houses," such as may be seen by the thousands in our New-York streets. The tenants generally understood his mission and received him pleasantly. He had heard of some rooms excessively crowded in one house, where a great deal of noise and disturbance was going on, and we went to them. But nothing could be done; the tenants claimed that the lodgers were only "their own family," (the law puts no limits on the numbers in one family,) and of course the Health Officer could exercise no control over any disturbance they might make. The tenants were very forward to complain of "nuisances," and his uniform reply was to recommend them to enter their complaints at the appointed office in that district. What over-crowding I saw there was no greater than exists continually in New-York. The different municipal corporations are allowed now by act of Parliament, to build "model lodging houses" by a tax on the real estate of the residents. Such houses had been built in this quarter and were doing good. The "Complaint Office" of which I have spoken was next visited. Here, any complaints made of nuisances in the quarter are reported, and Inspectors are directed to examine into them. This they do and report to the office; whereupon, if the complaint is substantiated, a notice is served on the owner of the building to abate or remove the nuisance, and if he refuses or neglects to do so within a reasonable time, he is prosecuted by the vestry of the parish.

I saw a number of these complaints, which were of just such nuisances as afflict us in New-York all the while, such as heaps of garbage, offensive trades, filthy privies, neglected sewers and the like.

The Health Officer has the supervision, also, of the slaughter-houses and bakeries. The former are obliged by law to be paved in a certain manner, with proper drains connecting with the public sewer, and no cess-pool for blood is allowed to be constructed within the slaughter-house. The building must also be adequately ventilated and provided with a water-supply and be thoroughly cleansed after the slaughtering is completed; it is required to be whitewashed three times a year or oftener, if necessary. All offal and remains of the animals killed in the day must be removed between 8 o'clock and midnight, and of those slaughtered at night before 7 o'clock the next morning. The abbatoir we visited was beautifully drained and ventilated, and entirely inoffensive. The proprietor said that all the blood was removed by a private company for manure.

The bake-houses are also placed under the inspection of the Health Officer. We examined one to see if the requirements of the law were fulfilled. If, for instance, any person under eighteen years had been employed in the bakery between the hours of 9 o'clock at night and 5 in the morning, the "occupier" would have been liable to a fine, not exceeding two pounds. This provision is designed to prevent the abuses practiced on children. More than this, the inside walls and ceiling must be painted or white-washed, and the passages leading thereto; the whitewash to be renewed at least every six months. The building should also be kept cleanly and well ventilated, and free from any effluvia of a drain or privy. The penalty for violation is here five pounds. It is also provided that no person shall sleep in a bake-house, unless the sleeping-place be separated by a full partition, and unless there be a glazed window of at least nine superficial feet, of which half can be opened for ventilation. These provisions are designed as protective measures over bakers' apprentices, and to insure cleanliness.

As an instance of the work done by these health officers, Dr. LETHEBY, the distinguished health officer of the "city," reports that his officers have condemned during the last year 210,505 pounds of meat as unfit for human food, and 1,312,651 fish, besides vast quantities of putrid shrimps and shell-fish; at the same time causing some twenty of the venders of these to be fined and imprisoned. He also states that 5,803 inspections of houses have been made, and 3,186 visits to the common lodging-houses of the city, and that 2,443 orders have been issued for sanitary improvement.

It is these health officers—many of them eminent medical men—who are collecting gradually the immensely valuable sanitary statistics which the English towns are now furnishing to the world; the exact relation of different trades and occupations to health and life, the vital effects of over crowding, the analysis of the food and water of the people, the best means of preventing pestilence and the diseases of the poor, and all that mass of facts on which the sanitary legislation of Great Britain has been based for a number of years.

Nothing could be more desirable for New-York than the establishment of just such a corps of thoroughly scientific medical men as health officers of the city, to report on sanitary matters, to present complaints or testify upon them before our courts, with authority to inspect tenement and lodging-houses, and all places where the public health is endangered.

Such men acting under improved legislation and supported by the police, could make New-York another kind of city in a few years, and reduce the death rate as much as their compeers have done in the English towns and villages. They would act continually upon public opinion, and, as we all know, when opinion is fairly formed and educated in America, we are more absolute in government than any monarchy in Europe.

AMUSEMENTS.

There will be six performances of opera, here and in Brooklyn, during the present week, by which it will be rightly inferred that Mr. MARETZEK is in good working order. The Brooklyn night is Thursday, ("Poliuto,") the rest of the week we have to ourselves, beginning this evening with "Il Trovatore," and ending on Saturday with "Ione" as a matinée. In the cast of VERDI's work we find the name of a new contralto, Mlle. B. DE ROSSI, who is the Asucena. ZUCCHI, MAZZOLENI and BELLINI sustain the other principal parts, and the orchestra will be under the direction of Mr. CARL BERGMANN. We are glad to notice by the announcements for the week that "Ernani" is to be repeated on Wednesday evening. The work made a decided hit on the occasion of its revival last Wednesday, and its repetition has been very generally demanded. We see also that FRICCI's comic opera (with which the Paris season opens) of "Crispino e la Comare" is in active preparation, and will be speedily produced. The music is singularly light, piquante and graceful.

The announcements at the various places of amusement to-night are as follows: At Wallack's, for the first time, the drama of "Miriam's Crime," and SELBY's petite comedy of "King and Comedian;" at the Winter Garden, "Our American Cousin;" at the Olympic, "As you Like It;" at Niblo's, the grand fairy ballet pantomime of "Bianco;" at Barnum's Museum, the equestrian drama of "Wild Kate of the Wilderness," (with Miss SALLIE PARTINGTON,) and the "Jealous Philosopher;" at the Hippotheatron, "El Nino Eddie," and a new equestrian programme; at Fox's Old Bowery Theatre, a new historical sensation drama called the "Three Red Men," the pantomime of the "Golden Ax," and the play of the "Exile's Daughter;" at the New Bowery Theatre, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with Mr. J. W. LINGARD, the original Uncle Tom, and a distribution of unusual strength. An afterpiece will also be played. At Bryants' Minstrels the "acts" are of the most select and irresistible kind; at Wood's the one-legged dancer DONATI makes his first appearance to-night, also Mr. CHARLES HARRIS; and at the American Theatre, (No. 444 Broadway,) a brilliant bill of novelties is promised.

The blind negro pianist called TOM gives a concert at Dodworth's Saloon to-night. He is said to be a very astonishing performer, and, at all events, is in many respects a natural curiosity.

After an ignominious existence of six nights, the new sensation play of "Lolah" was withdrawn from the bills of the Olympic on Saturday evening. It had a short career, and by no means a merry one. Yet the piece itself possessed many of the elements of success. The first act could readily have been softened down. It was unnecessary to have the drunken beast Sternhold raging about the stage as he did, and it was surely wanton and brutal to make human creatures converse in a vein of such leel density as prevailed in the dialogue. If Miss RUSHTON needs this piece for the country, we would urge her to strengthen it by a speedy return to the French original. In the meanwhile it is pleasant to find that the lady is willing to retrace her steps, and to submit her legitimate claims as an actress to the consideration of the public. She appears to-night in SHAKESPEARE's "As You Like It," playing Rosalind. The Jacques of the occasion is by Mr. CHARLES KEMBLE MASON, the Orlando by Mr. J. K. MORTIMER. Extremes will certainly meet on this occasion.

Why is it that theatrical people invariably drag their private troubles into print, and insist on boring their neighbors with things which do not in any way concern them? If a bootmaker's rights are invaded he does not think of publishing a card in the newspapers or of placarding the city with scurril mouthings about his opponent's wife's relatives. He simply seeks redress where it can be obtained, and if his cause is just obtains it. The city was scandalized last week, and the profession disgraced, by a violent and most ungenerous advertisement issued over the signature of LAURA KEENE, and by a low, sneaking placard signed JOHN LUTZ. These parties, it seems, imagine that they have a personal right to the comedy of "Our American Cousin"—a vain imagining, in which Judge MONCRIEF does not concur—and naturally are angry with Mr. J. J. CLARKE for playing the piece without their permission. This is all well enough, but why not go to law at once; why appeal to the public in an unfair, one-sided, cowardly way, and in fact why at all, seeing that the public has nothing whatever to do with it anyhow? The publication of a card prejudging the case is, to say the least of it, indecorous, and the good sense of the profession will, we are sure, be with us in denouncing a practice so wrongful in its intent and humiliating and degrading in its practice. Actors must learn to settle their troubles like private people. The less they show themselves in print, the better it is for their professional and social standing.

A good many people labor under the impression that the Philharmonic Society has raised the rates of its subscription this year, and indeed we have seen this error distinctly affirmed in two prominent daily journals. It was last year that the rates were increased to eight dollars—and this in the face of absolute prosperity. The immediate effect was the withdrawal of four hundred members, disgusted partly at the avarice of the concern, but mainly at its old fogy management. It has not been found judicious to reduce the rates of membership this season, but the Board of Management has awakened to the fact that something must be done by the society, to prevent what little vitality yet remains from oozing out. They have engaged Mr. BERGMANN as conductor for the entire season, paying him a liberal honorarium for his services, and in the five concerts under this gentleman's direction, will introduce no fewer than five orchestral novelties. Messrs. RICHARD HOFFMAN, S. B. MILLS, and WM. MASON, have been secured as piano soloists, and the directors promise to present vocalists of equal rank as the time arrives. There will be no difficulty in the matter now that they have arrived at the very obvious conclution that there is neither dignity nor policy in sponging on the profession for solo aid. All kinds of talent can be secured by paying for it, and the Philharmonic Society should pay best to get the best. At all events we have confidence in Mr. BERGMANN. The existence of the society depends on him. He is a director as well as conductor, and in his dual capacity should possess power to follow pretty much his own judgment. The first rehearsal took place on Saturday, at the Academy of Music. The attendance was exceedingly small—as it is apt to be at the commencement of the season. The first concert is on Saturday, Nov. 4. The programme contains SCHUMANN's Symphony, No. 4, in Dminor, LISZT's "Mazeppa," and BEETHOVEN's overture to "Leonora," No. 3.

A little fellow named COKER, with a throat like a nightingale, gave an interesting concert at Irving Hall on Saturday evening. He is about as high as a shilling's worth of coppers, and is discernible to the naked eye mainly by reason of a pair of white gloves which seem to cling to him by a special law of gravitation. He was formerly principal soprano at Trinity Church—the congregation of which establishment was well represented on this occasion. He is a nice little fellow, and when his chest is puffed out and his head thrown back, and his mouth wide open, he looks for all the world like the songster we have named. And he sings pretty much in the same way—by nature. His voice is thoroughly delicious, and it is of admirable extent; flexible, if not cultivated, and pleasing, although sometimes forced. We do not think a heavy dramatic cavatina like that from "Robert il Diavolo" suited to his powers. It requires too much effort, and must speedily lead to disastrous results. In ballads and small bravura pieces the boy is very good—creating a sensation even in "Il Bacio," by ARDITI. (This piece seems to have attacked our audiences like a mania. The moment it is recognized the demented creatures set up a yell of triumph.) Mrs. JENNY KEMPTON, our most agreeable and acceptable contralto, sang the flower song from "Faust," and a ballad by CALCOTT in a very dashing and spirited way—introducing, also, by way of encores, a German song and "Il Segretto," from "Lucrezia Borgia." We should have enjoyed these pieces more thoroughly had the lady adhered somewhat more closely to the music. A pernicious habit is now in vogue of introducing all sorts of vocal vagaries and exaggerations into the most ordinary compositions. A singer has no right to "show off" at the expense of the composer. Mlle. TOEDT, a clever violiniste, played a couple of solos with very nice taste, and Messrs. POWERS and FLEMMING assisted in the vocal department—the latter with a surprising basso that soughed through the hall like an east wind, making the teeth chatter, and causing several persons to sneeze. Mr. E. M. POWERS has a good tenor voice, which he worries unnecessarily. The artistic treat of the evening was the piano performance of Mr. S. B. MILLS, who played a "Berceuse," by CHOPIN, "Second Tarentelle," by himself, and the "Rakoczy March," by LISZT—drawing also on CHOPIN for two encore pieces. We have rarely known this gentleman to be in such splendid condition. His playing was as near perfection as we are likely to have it for many a day. Its truth, simple grandeur, clearness, classic elegance of style, and calm intelligence, can hardly, it seems to us, be surpassed. They are stern and overwhelming protests against the false, tricky and meretricious school which, although it does not prevail here to any great extent, has yet by far too many admirers. The "Rakoczy March" was played so surprisingly well, that Mr. MILLS was overtaken by a burst of irrepressible and thoroughly critical applause, in the midst of a maze of complicated scale passages. His reception was in every respect most enthusiastic.

MME. GAZZANIGA—the Safo of the days when lovers' leaps were yet in fashion—has arrived in this country. She is a member of Mr. GRAU's troupe, and will make her rentrée at Crosby's Opera House, Chicago. We should be glad to welcome her back to our own stage, but for the moment the fates are inexorable.

THE KEANS IN BROOKLYN.—The enterprise of Manager JARRETT has provided the people of Brooklyn with a genuine and pleasurable sensation in the theatrical line. Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES KEAN, who, strange to say, are unable to find an unengaged house in this city, are announced for three performances at the Academy, opening to-night in "Henry VIII." and "The Jealous Wife." On Tuesday they give "The Merchant of Venice," and on Wednesday "Louis XI." These selections are the most admirable of the Kean repertoire, and we urgently advise our friends in Brooklyn to avail themselves of an opporunity which may, and probably will, never be presented again. The box-sheet on Saturday was fast filling up and we have no doubt the engagement will prove that the people of Brooklyn, like the people of this or any other city, are ever ready to recognize merit and art whenever fairly presented.

POLIUTO.—This opera is announced for Thursday night at the Brooklyn Academy, with the New-York cast. There has never before been such a furore in domestic and church-going circles, as now exists on the opera question. Venerable merchants and their better sober halves are among the subscribers to the season list, and Italian arias are now familiar in households where, ten years since, Dr. WATTS and MASON's Tuneology monopolized the vocal powers. A revolution has succeeded, of which LOWBER was the original conspirator and MARETZEK the unchallenged emperor. More brilliant audiences, more intelligent faces, more elaborate toilettes, more genuine appreciation of musical excellencies and deficiencies, and perhaps more tomfoolery of fashion as well, it would be hard to find anywhere than in Brooklyn. We notice that there is yet a great deal of human nature in people—yea, even in the people of the City of Churches.

THE PHILHARMONICS.—Our readers will be pleased to learn of the successful inception of this year's Brooklyn Philharmonics. Having adopted our suggestion about the increase in the price of tickets, and the reservation of tickets, the directors issued their prospectus. In the short space of three weeks Dr. HULL, the hard-working treasurer of this and every other society in the city, (so to speak) received five hundred subscriptions, and more are rapidly coming in. We shall not be surprised to hear that one thousand regular season tickets are sold before the first concert at which Miss KELLOG and BELLINI are to sing and Mr. RICHARD HOFFMAN play. The people of Brooklyn have KELLOG on the brain, and we indorse the fever; it's a good sign, and the people are eminently sensible. The first rehearsal was given last Wednesday, at the Academy, CARL BERGMANN conducting. He was free in the use of his brake, and made the rehearsal, very much to the annoyance of some of the audience, a thing of life, a too real counterfeit of the genuine article. That's the way to do it.

MRS. JENNY KEMPTON.—This fair lady and choice contralto has been engaged by the Coker combination to accompany them in a tour embracing Brooklyn, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington and Richmond. Mrs. KEMPTON, a resident of Brooklyn, has made for herself a large parish of hearty admirers, and will be found an accession of rare merit to the troupe.

Mlle. PAREPA's success in Boston has been complete. The newspapers are enthusiastic about her.

—From Berlin we learn the death of Astronomer ENKE, whose name will ever be attached to the comet he descried and traced through its recurrent orbit; while other important additions to our knowledge of the firmament secure him immortality.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

MATTERS AND THINGS IN NEW-JERSEY.

The Election—The Union Men Hopeful.

PATERSON, N. J., Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1865.

With the people of this as of every other section of New-Jersey, the chief topic of interest at the present time is the approaching election, which is to decide the question of adoption or rejection of the Constitutional Amendment in this State. Three or four months ago scarcely a Union man could have been found here who could believe there was any probability of New-Jersey's being carried for any good cause. Now, Union men are everywhere hopeful, even confident of our triumph in November. The utmost enthusiasm pervades all classes of people; in some of the cities that I have visited there is such an enthusiasm displayed as was never witnessed there before. Campaign songs, "composed for the occasion," are as "plenty as huckleberries" in Summer, and are universally sung. The Union meetings, too, are largely attended, and the bare mention of the name of MARCUS L. WARD is sure to provoke the warmest demonstrations of favor. I have watched the political movements in New-Jersey for some years, and I must say that I never saw so great a change in sentiment in so short a time. You will remember that in 1862, the State elected a Democratic Governor by over 14,000 majority; and now it looks as if Mr. WARD, the Union candidate, would be elected by not less than 5,000 majority. A hopeful sign is the notable apathy that pervades the ranks of the opposition. They are barely able to get up anything like a large meeting, and what meetings they do have are addressed only by the most insignificant members of their party, the really able, honest men of it evidently fearing to trust themselves before the people upon the wretched, patched-up concern ycelpt "platform," concocted on the 30th August last. On our side we have the dashing KILPATRICK, who carries consternation into the Copperhead ranks wherever he goes; we have Gen. SWIFT, Gen. HITE, Col. HAWKINS, Hon. FREDERICK T. FRELINGHUYSEN, and a host of others. Hon. HENRY WILSON will be with us next week, and we are also to have Gen. LOGAN, Gen. ROSSEAU, Ex-Speaker GROW, Hon. EDWARD MCPHERSON, and others of national reputation.

It is not generally known that New-Jersey is a Slave State. According to the census of 1860 there were twenty-one slaves living in the State. Four of them reside in this city. They did not come under the provisions of the law abolishing slavery in the Commonwealth, and being now too old to support themselves they refuse to accept their freedom.

The question of negro suffrage was discussed in this city the other night by one CATO GERVE, a colored gentleman of the sablest hue. CATO has been a slave himself, and can neither read nor write, but makes up for deficiency to a great degree by his native shrewdness. In the course of his lecture, CATO declared that "de colored men doesn't want no ekality; dey doesn't want no vote; all dey wants is freedom and work." Of course, this coming from a mouthpiece of the colored residents, settles the question of negro suffrage in New-Jersey.

The Fenians are quite numerous in Paterson, a large portion of the population being emigrants from the "Green Isle." They have a very fine room where they hold meetings weekly, and receive large additions to their numbers. So far as my observation extends, the more sensible Irishmen, the well-informed, steady, industrious men, refrain from joining the organization. They well know the futility of any attempt to redeem Ireland politically, so long as her people remain in their present moral condition. Many of them, indeed, doubt the expediency of freeing Ireland from British rule, even if it could be done, in view of the utter hopelessness of ever cordially uniting the people. These men have been much pleased at the sensible view of the matter taken by the TIMES. By the way, now that a cotemporary of your's has started the subject of the etymology and significance of the word Fenian, it may be of some service to the philologic to be reminded that during the wars between one of the EDWARDS of France, some centuries ago, a "Fenian" organization flourished in the latter country.

I see in a recent article in the TIMES, on the prospects of a plentiful supply of coal, (oh, joyful thought!) you estimate the amount that can be delivered in New-York at 60,000 tons per week. In that article you do not include the Morris and Essex Railroad in the list of coal-carrying roads. This road will, in a short time—a few weeks at furthest—be opened through to Easton, thus affording a new outlet to the coal supposed to be so plenty in and about that region. Five hundred coal cars have been built for this business; a large number of heavy locomotives have been placed on the road and more are in process of construction. The track, throughout the entire length of the road, from Hoboken to Phillipsburgh, has been put in the best condition; a double track extends a considerable portion of the road, and a wide-gauge track is being laid to admit of the passage of the coal cars of the Pennsylvania lines, so that in a short time the Morris and Essex will be a most favorable route for the transportation of coal from the mining regions.

Next to politics the Fall meeting of the Passaic County Agricultural Society, in other words, the Paterson races, are the chief subject of interest about here just now. The races commence on Tuesday next, continuing through Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. You have already published the programme. From what I can learn the managers hope and expect to make this one of the most interesting meetings that has been held for many years. If the present weather continues the track will be in prime order and the occasion will be one of great interest. By the way, you should bear in mind that on the bills of the society is invariably printed the notice—no postponement on account of the weather, and no deduction for a walk over. Some misapprehension on this subject has been created in the minds of some sporting gentlemen, and the members of the society wish to have it generally understood that the above is one of the regulations of their meetings.

NELSON.

Discussion Between Maj.-Gen. Kilpatrick and Hon. A. J. Rogers—Nearly Six Thousand Persons Present—An Orderly Assemblage of Jerseymen.

On Saturday evening the much-talked of—at least in New-Jersey—discussion between Maj.-Gen. KILPATRICK and Hon. A. J. ROGERS, came off in front of the Court-house, Newark, N. J. The challenge for the discussion emanated from Mr. ROGERS, who offered to meet Gen. KILPATRICK three times a week until election, to discuss the issue of the present campaign in New-Jersey. It was promptly accepted, and the meeting on Saturday evening was the first of the series.

The weather was delightful, and the attendance large, nearly six thousand persons being present. It was anticipated a disturbance would occur; in fact, many rumors had been spread abroad to the effect that Gen. KILPATRICK dare not speak, and if he did attempt to he would be summarily stopped by arguments in the shape of brick-bats, rotten eggs, stones and other trifles of a like nature. Such being the expectation, a meeting was held on Friday evening, and the following rules and regulations, for the maintenance of law and order, were agreed upon:

1. We pledge ourselves to use our best endeavors to preserve order irrespective of party.
2. We pledge ourselves to discountenance all demonstrations of disapproval of sentiments uttered by our opponents.
3. We agree that the members of each party may applaud the sentiments of each speaker whenever they choose, according to their own tastes.
4. The meeting shall elect two of their number (one from each party) to preside and enfore the above rules.

DAVID L. PLUME,
E. H. LANDEL,
AUGUSTUS L. WILCOX,
Chairman of Com. Republican C. C.
C. L. C. GIFFORD,
President Central Dem. Club.
WM. H. CAMP,
Chairman Central Com.

Around the court-house, in the trees, and on the railings were the usual number of small boys, who, seemingly, are ubiquitous and haunt all political meetings. They yell more, shriek shriller, and make greater noise generally than any man no matter what his growth. Small straws show which way the wind blows, and it must be confessed that the juvenile population of Newark were to a man—or rather boy—in favor of Mr. ROGERS.

The discussion was announced to take place at 7½ o'clock. When that hour had passed some little time, the crowd became impatient—though good-natured—and loud cries were made to "trot" the orators out. At length the sound of carriage-wheels were heard. "Here they are," was shouted, and Gen. KILPATRICK and Hon. A. J. ROGERS were ushered upon the platform. They were received with the loudest and most enthusiastic plaudits, either side trying to outvie the other in the vociferousness of the reception.

After some little time silence was obtained, but not before three cheers and a "tiger" had been given for the rival candidates for the Governorship of New Jersey—MARCUS L. WARD and Gen. RUNYON. Mr. WM. GILE acted as chairman for the Democratic party, and Mr. WM. STANBURG for the Republicans. On the time-keepers being appointed—Messrs. HAYES and CAMP—some facetious person on the platform said it reminded him of a prize fight. Mr. C. S. C. GIFFORD called the meeting to order, and introduced Mr. ROGERS, who was to talk half an hour, Gen. KILPATRICK an hour, Mr. ROGERS to conclude with another half hour's speech.

Mr. ROGERS, in his first half hour, endeavored to show the unconstitutionality of exempting bonds from taxation, and that in consequence the poor men of New-Jersey were the sole tax-payers; the rich men who staid at home during the war, rode in their carriages, had niggers to brush their clothes and comb their hair, paid nothing; while poor men built the school houses for the education of rich men's children. That the whole aim and object of the government was to elevate the man of means at the expense of the working man. And if God spared his life till next Winter, his first work in Congress would be the endeavor to repeal the bill exempting bonds from taxation.

These remarks were received with the utmost favor by the "hard fisted," who frequently interrupted by applause.

Gen. KILPATRICK was then introduced amidst a perfect storm of cheers, again and again repeated. He said it was customary for politicians to say, that the election on which they were about to enter was of more importance than any other that preceded it. He should not say anything of the kind; he intended to be honest. The campaign of last Fall was one of far higher importance. Then we were striving to prove to the world that the struggle for the nation's life was not a failure, and that the blood and treasure had not been spilled in vain. Mr. ROGERS had talked very eloquently about Government bonds being exempt from taxation; also about taxation. When he does so he is not honest; if he were, he would have told you that there are four millions of State bonds untaxed by this very Copperhead Legislature, and fifty-six millions of railroad property untaxed by this very same Copperhead Legislature. If they were taxed, no man in New Jersey need pay any State taxes. Republicans stood by the policy of ANDREW JOHNSON; they had elected him, now the Copperheads were trying to steal him from them. In conclusion, the General urged all present who wished to be on the winng side to at once join the Republican party.

Contrary to expectation, the General was listened to with marked attention, frequently interrupted with applause. When he concluded, three cheers and a "tiger" were given with a hearty vim and vigor for Gen. KILPATRICK.

Mr. ROGERS again dashed in for his other half hour. Being the last speaker, with no one to contradict him, he had it all his own way, dealing in ordinary Copperhead platitudes with remarkable energy, and pitching into the Union party right and left.

The meeting then adjourned.

Gen. Sickles on the Democracy of New-Jersey.

The following sharp and patriotic letter from Gen. D. E. SICKLES was read by Gen. KILPATRICK during one of his political debates with Mr. ROGERS in New-Jersey:

BOSTON, Sept. 25, 1865.

MY DEAR KILPATRICK: I have received yours of the 21st, inviting me to go up into Sussex with you on the 28th. I wish my engagements here permitted me to do so, for I am sure we would enjoy a day or two at the fair, and especially the promised sport of the races. The journals give glowing accounts of your animated and brilliant campaign in New-Jersey, and if I were a Jerseyman like yourself, I should be in the thickest of the fight with you. And as it is, when I hear of the ungenerous and unjust things that are said of your motives and conduct, I feel inclined to break through all the reserve about politics that I have imposed on myself while in the army, and draw some of the Copperhead fire that is concentrated so hotly upon you just now.

Before the war you and I were among those who exerted themselves to put the Democratic party of New-Jersey in power. I believe the masses of the Democracy of New-Jersey are to-day as patriotic as any of our countrymen; but the controlling leaders have managed to put the State in an attitude of obstinate and persistent hostility to the Union sentiment of the nation. In New-York the Democratic State Convention has recently declared that, "banishing all minor party considerations, and acting in the spirit of an enlarged and generous patriotism, they cordially support President JOHNSON in the policy he has avowed, to enable the States late in revolt to put their governments in practical operation, and in all such constitutional measures as he may inaugurate, to harmonize the country and restore and cement the union of the States." As I understand it, this is precisely the ground you occupy in New-Jersey in supporting the Union platform.

The party in power in New-Jersey might learn a good deal from South Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama. In these States, when slavery was found dead, it was decently buried by the voluntary decrees of the people, pronounced by the conventions now in session. New-Jersey refuses her assent to an amendment of the Federal Constitution abolishing slavery. Is his Democratic?

We do not so understand it in New-York. Here, the Democratic Convention hails with commendation the "frank and generous acceptance by the Southern States people of the condition in which they have been held by the recent war, including the abandonment of slavery." This is right and manly. All parties agree to it.

When I read the so-called Democratic platform of New-Jersey, for 1865, I find there an effort to screen the rebels from their treason, by casting the blame of the rebellion on the Northern majority which elected the lamented LINCOLN. I find there a long and not very novel lecture about the limited powers of the Federal Government; the advantages of specie currency; the right of the States to do as they please; that our national debt is a calamity and a curse; a demand for the admission into Congress of the United States of all persons elected according to the laws of their States (a demand which would restore DAVIS, SLIDELL, TOOMBS and their associates to Congress, whether pardoned or not, and in spite of their treason;) and, in one breath, the Administration of President JOHNSON is condemned for arresting Northern traitors, and for refusing to pardon defiant Southern rebels.

The truth is, I do not believe that the authors of the New-Jersey Democratic platform of Aug. 30, 1865, regard rebels as having lost either rights or consideration by their treason. Neither the rebellion nor its authors are denounced; no one is denounced except the government that put the rebellion down. These are not the real sentiments of the New-Jersey Democracy. They will repudiate them, as the same mischievous errors have been already repudiated in New-York; and I rejoice to see you charging through them, as under PLEASONTON you broke through the enemy's lines at Brandy Station, and you afterward drove the flying foe before you to his hiding-place behind the fortifications of Richmond.

I would not have you suppose, my dear General, that I am not duly grateful for the kind offer of "sympathy" tendered by the Democratic Convention of New-Jersey to the officers and soldiers engaged in the late war; I presume that they are sorry for us that we did not keep out of the war, as they did; and, of course, we ought to seize with avidity that compliment to "white" courage and "white" patriotism paid to us at the expense of the black troops.

"The credit of the victories won by the Union armies ARE due alone to the white officers and soldiers." This quotation from the seventh resolution is as generous as it is grammatical. You and I know, as all our comrades know, that the exclusion of the blacks from a fair share of praise is as unjust as it is mean. They performed their duty with courage, fidelity and zeal. They have proved their fitness to enjoy the freedom which their valor helped to win. If, as the Copperheads say, the war was waged for emancipation, was it not right that the race which was to be enfranchised should share the peril of the conflict? If, as we say, the war was prosecuted to defend the Union and Constitution of our fathers, need the Copperheads complain that negroes took their places in the ranks? Let them mumble; no one else is hurt.

I find in the fourth resolution of the Union platform a satisfactory portrait of the people you are fighting so ably and effectively. "In dealing with the National Government, to which was committed the safety of the Republic in times of public danger, they caviled where they should have coöperated; they denounced where they should have encouraged: they thwarted where they should have strengthened; and thus became largely responsible for the evils of a conflict which a united people would have speedily ended; and, in view of these facts, we are assured that in their defeat at the coming election lies the only hope that New-Jersey will bear a worthy part in the solution of the great questions of national policy which remain to be decided, and in securing the just fruits of our victory over rebellion.

Faithfully, &c., D. SICKLES.

Maj.-Gen. KILPATRICK.

KINGS COUNTY POLITICS.

The City and County Conventions—Their Meetings and Doings—Names of the Nominees—Who and What they Are—Two Generals, a Captain and a Private on the Ticket—Supervisor Samuel Booth the Candidate for Mayor.

The Republicans of Brooklyn have placed the name of SAMUEL BOOTH at the head of their city ticket. This is in accordance with a suggestion made in the TIMES a few weeks since—a suggestion which was then regarded as absurd and prejudiced by many of the good people of our sister city. Mr. BOOTH, if elected, will make an excellent Mayor. Long familiarity with the routine of office, hard work in the field of civic duty, years of experience in the management of finance, combine to make him as good an officer as the city can produce. His integrity is unquestioned, his life unblemished, his reputation unsullied. Although less known to the general public than the present able incumbent, and although of not so much mental calibre as Hon. Mr. STRANAHAN, whose name was mentioned in this connection, Mr. BOOTH has very many friends among a class of men who always vote, and vote for the right ticket, so that while the Democracy defiantly proclaim their ability to carry the State by a large majority, it is believed by those competent to judge that Mr. BOOTH will make a good fight, and cause them a great deal of trouble to prove their assertion.

This will be more conspicuously the case if the Democrats carry into their conventions the bitter feelings and feuds that now divide and embarrass the party. There can be little reason to doubt that KALBFLEISCH will run for the mayoralty. If he does he will draw an immense support. During his régime fortunately expenses were trifling and the taxes small. The exigencies of the war have changed all this and the Democratic leaders avail themselves of the opportunity to unfairly saddle upon Mayor WOOD's administration the vast increase of taxation, as though he were to blame for the signal advance in and of everything.

It is by no means certain that the contest will be confined to Messrs. BOOTH and KALBFLEISCH, and if, as when Mayor WOOD was elected, there shall be a triangular fight, Mr. BOOTH's friends will have an admirable opportunity of showing their strength and securing their success.

MR. WM. G. BOGGS

is named for Comptroller. Mr. BOGGS has resided in Brooklyn but a short time and is quite unknown to the people of the city. He is an elderly gentleman of refined habit and gentle manners, who has had an extended and varied worldly experience. Many years since he was the publisher of the Evening Post, in partnership with Mr. BRYANT, occupying the position now held by ISAAC HENDERSON, late Navy Agent. Thence he removed West and acted as Postmaster, and we believe publisher, until his return East. To his successful exertions the establishment of the Brooklyn Union is largely due. Of this paper he has been to a great extent the nourishment, the patronage thereof being greatly dependent upon his energy and industry. Mr. BOGGS, if elected, will prove a conscientious, capable and satisfactory officer.

Mr. THOS. H. FARRON, the present officer, is named by many Democrats as the probable candidate on that side. That party owes it to itself and the public to select a different man and a man of different habits. Should, however, Mr. FARRON be renominated, it is to be hoped that the tax-payers and reputable voters of all parties will rally about Mr. BOGGS and secure the elevation to office of one whose tastes and customs are those of a gentleman.

GEN. E. L. MOLLINEUX

was nominated as Collector of Taxes. This responsible position he is well qualified to fill. A practical business man, Gen. MOLLINEUX is thoroughly informed as to the requirements of the office, and will bring to the discharge of his duty a rare combination of skill and integrity. His gallant record in the army is well known to his fellow-citizens, who delight to honor him thus at the first fitting opportunity. He entered the service as a private, was subsequently Colonel of the One Hundred and Fifty-ninth, served in Louisiana, in the Shenandoah under SHERIDAN, and in Georgia under SHERMAN, at all times evincing bravery and discretion, and earning the well merited and highly prized commendations of his superiors.

Another General, SAMUEL H. ROBERTS, received the nomination for CITY TREASURER.

Out of 97 votes the General received 93 on the first ballot, a pretty fair indication of the estimation in which he is held. He was Lieutenant-Colonel of the One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Regiment, with which he served most gallantly. He is a clear-headed, honest, capable man, and should be triumphantly elected.

Mr. MCLEAR, a gallant soldier, whose empty sleeve attests the sacrifice made for his country, was nominated as Auditor.

It is proper here to say, that although several other gentlemen were preferred as candidates by some of the members, the nominations were made with great unanimity and received with cordiality.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION

met at the same place on the same day, and made the following nominations: The first candidate on the list was that of District-Attorney. Two persons were prominently named, and over them waged a most exciting contest. Mr. WILLIAM E. ROBINSON, the chief assessor of the district, was one, and Mr. E. L. SANDERSON was the other. On the first ballot ROBINSON had out of 126 votes 63, and SANDERSON 62. This nearness naturally led spectators to anticipate a little sport, and they were not mistaken. On one ballot SANDERSON had 66 votes, but as the whole number cast exceeded the number of delegates by 4, it was deemed hardly the thing to count them. Finally Mr. SANDERSON received 67 votes to ROBINSON's 58, and his nomination was declared. Mr. SANDERSON is a lawyer of some popular strength. He is President of the Museola Literary Association, and is said to be a very efficient political speaker. His record is that of an old Whig down to the day of Republicanism, when among the earliest and foremost he entered the ranks, and has done good service ever since. Whatever split there may be in the Democratic ranks on the candidate for Mayor, there is little hope of a division on the District-Attorney. Judge MORRIS will undoubtedly receive the nomination from one or both divisions of the Democracy, and will make a bitter fight for the position. If Mr. SANDERSON is elected, it will be a signal proof of his popularity, and that he will make a good, faithful and careful officer, there can be no possible question.

Mr. ANDREW HODGES received the nomination for County Treasurer. He is a conscientious, upright man, and will faithfully perform the duties of his office, if elected.

As Superintendents of the Poor, Messrs. F. B. KIRBY, JOHN MONTGOMERY and ANDREW HEGEMAN were nominated. Mr. WM. H. HOYT was nominated as Justice of the Sessions, and Capt. H. B. SMITH as Coroner.

That this ticket as a whole is strong and good, no one familiar with the situation can deny. That it has to contend with a large majority and a hard-working party is equally patent; and that the duty of every true Union man is clear as the sunlight we need not urge. Work, hard work, and plenty of it, is needed to insure victory; and it is to be hoped that Kings County, too generally on the wrong side of the fence, will rally about the true-blue standard, and form straight on the Union line at the coming day of trial.

NOTES.

A young artist named BARTLETT, but a few months since a simple marble-cutter, has produced a choice head and bust, which he calls the Yankee Girl, and which is causing quite a sensation in artistic circles. As a work pure and simple it is in some respects deficient, but as the first work of an uneducated hand, it is miraculous. BARTLETT's studio is in the Mason & Hamlin Building, next to the Metropolitan Hotel.

First Lieut. CHARLES W. RAYMOND, U. S. A., who graduated this Summer at the head of the outgoing class at West Point, has been ordered upon the Board of Engineers at Boston Harbor. He is the youngest, in fact the only young man on the board, and the assignment is regarded as eminently complimentary.

In regard to the complaints of the men at Hart's Island, it is proper to state that the War Department recently detailed an officer, at the request of Col. DODGE, to investigate the entire system of discipline, subsistence and muster at the depots hereabouts. The official report shows that nothing could be better than the present plan and practice. The men don't have much gingerbread, perhaps, but they are well provided for in every particular; and what is by no means a remarkable fact, the poorest soldiers make the most complaints.

The Cholera in Turkey.

The following are extracts from private letters of Rev. Dr. HAMLIN, of Constantinople, to a friend in this city, giving some account of the terrible ravages of the cholera, with the heroic and self denying labors of the missionaries to relieve the sufferings of the people:

HALKI, Prince's Islands, Monday, Aug. 14, 1865.

MY DEAR SIR: I write you a hasty note to say that we are all well. The cholera has broken out again in the places where for a time it had ceased, and its ravages are terrible. Many foreign families are now in mourning. I read the English burial service at 8 o'clock last evening. We all are compelled to live with great care and circumspection, or we are seized with the preliminary signs of the cholera. Taken in season it yields readily, but once under way, its power is terrible. * * * * * * * *

The disorganization of society is (so) very great that I fear our work will be delayed, but (if) God shall spare us all, we shall rejoice in his mercy. A calm trust in Him, and the daily and cheerful performance of duty are what, as Christians, we are called to.

HALKI, Wednesday, Aug. 23, 1865.

* * * Monday, the 14th, the published reports were less than 300; the reports actually sent in to government, were 1,689 deaths. The three preceding days they must have exceeded 2,000 daily. * * *

My health is good. Bebek is nearly free, and tomorrow I join TROWBRIDGE and LONG in visiting the sick and suffering in the great khans of the city. The good accomplished every day is so positive and palpable that notwithstanding the scenes of loathsome filth, wretchedness and death, one cannot keep out of it. When I have spent the whole day in visiting the sick, and have come home too wearied, or rather, perhaps, too exhausted by the vast perspiration of a long August day, to write a line or read a newspaper, my sleep has been more profound and refreshing, and I have arised in better trim in the morning than after a day of relaxation.

TROWBRIDGE and LONG have worked harder than I, and seven days every week, and have saved hundreds of lives. I feel that I am now perfectly reëstablished, and I go in with them. * * *

THE GOLDEN BITTERS.—We have for some time had it in contemplation to say something about these bitters, as a medical remedy and restorative, notwithstanding the fact that in doing so we break over our accustomed rule in such matters. But this remedy, though a new one, seems to give such great satisfaction wherever it has been tried, and has so much good evidence in its favor, that we feel we are but doing a duty to the public, and especially to the afflicted, in calling attention to it, and giving it as our unbiased opinion that HUBBEL'S GOLDEN BITTERS is a remedy that is deserving of the confidence and patronage of the afflicted, and all who need a restorative, in cases of dyspepsia, derangements of the liver, and any kind of general debility of the system. They seem to be good for various other complaints, but in these, and wherever a restorative and strengthening tonic or bitter is needed, they are probably unsurpassed, if equaled, by anything of the kind in existence. This much we say, after fully examining and testing them, and having the testimony of others who have used them. The reader will find them advertised in our paper as HUBBEL'S CELEBRATED GOLDEN BITTERS, and will there see stated the diseases for which they are celebrated. They are for sale, we believe, in most of our drug-stores, and are manufactured by GEO. C. HUBBEL & Co., Hudson, N. Y.—Indianapolis Gazette.

NOT A DEBATABLE QUESTION.—Some questions are subjects of debate; others are past all controversy. For example, there is no room for argument as to whether PHALON'S "Night-Blooming Cereus" is or is not the most popular perfume in this country. The sovereign people, as arbiters in matters of taste, have decided that question by an unanimous affirmative.—Cleveland Herald.

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC!
DR. VON EISENBERG'S
ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON,
THE CELEBRATED APPARATUS.

From the New-York Express.

So many able and earnest men are devoting themselves to medical investigation, that it would be strange if new discoveries were not made. Among the most brillant of these—we may indeed say the most brilliant of all—is that of Dr. VON EISENBERG, in regard to the Etherealization of Medicines; we may properly call it the "Spiritualization," since the Latin Spiritus, whence comes our word "Spiritual," signifies primarily, simply "the air."

Many of the most important and vital organs of the human frame cannot be reached by medicines in a solid or even in a liquid form. Thus the lungs are shut up in a bony chest to which access can be had only through the wind-pipe, the opening of which is closed by a valve, called the "epiglottis," so sensitive and so delicately constructed, that it will not allow the passage, except by main force, of the most minute crumb, or the smallest drop of liquid. Every person who has "swallowed the wrong way" the smallest substance, whether of liquid or solid, knows the feeling of strangulation thereby occasioned. A man cannot, if he would, voluntarily swallow any liquid or solid into the lungs, or the passage leading to them. Herein lies the true reason why Consumption has been so incurable.

As to the entire apparatus, we have no hesitation in saying that we regard it as a wonderful invention—one that, were it not so costly, we have little doubt would be adopted by every hospital and medical college in the country. We are satisfied it would well repay, even if he had to journey all the way from Europe, the scientific man to see and examine it. It is a marvel of mechanical complexity, and yet, when its multiform uses are considered, of extreme simplicity and great beauty. That it will in every respect fulfill the expectations of the inventor, we have every reason to believe. It has been constructed with an accurate knowledge of its ultimate uses. One so experienced in the specialities for which it is particularly intended as is Dr. Von Eisenberg, and for which he has long felt the necessity in his practice, could make no failure. With it he is enabled to surmount obstacles that were hitherto deemed all but impossible to control. He can now approach with certainty and diagnose thoroughly every disease that, in the course of his extended practice, he aims to master. To those, therefore, who are in any way afflicted with loss of sight or hearing, with catarrh, bronchitis, chest or lung diseases, we earnestly suggest a visit to the consulting apartments of Dr. VON EISENBERG. There he will be speedily made to know the possibility of a cure in even complicated cases. We hereto observe that the apparatus is intended also to bring the etherealized medicines into direct action upon the nerves. The nervous system is the source of many diseases. All physicians admit this, and all profess at least to be able to apply a remedy. The Allopathic, Homeopathic and Hydropathic, by prescribing opiates, anodynes, &c., may, and do, alleviate the pain arising from impaired or diseased nerves; but this does not restore the nerve, it is only temporary relief—a relief, too, to one nerve at the expense of the entire system. The Æsthetico-Neuralgicon of Dr. Von Eisenberg not merely allays the irritation, but restores the nerve to its normal condition. The Doctor's theory is, that each nerve has a specific office, and has its own peculiar susceptibility. Thus, for example, the nerve of vision is insensible to touch; and, on the other hand, the nerve of touch is insensible to light, and so on through the whole system.

From the Journal of Commerce.

We think it is but just to Dr. Von Eisenberg to call public attention to him. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, if not actually praying for death, who are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is in his power to make them whole or not.

HEARING RESTORED BY A SINGLE APPLICATION OF THE ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON.

READ! READ!

NEW-YORK, May 4, 1865.

I have been induced, by the great number of certificates continually published in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's skill, to apply to him for advice concerning my deafness of many years' standing. I placed myself under his care, and to my utmost delight he made me hear perfectly well by a single painless application of Dr. Von Eisenberg's "Æsthetico-Neuralgicon." I have great pleasure in being able to state that his skill in restoring hearing surpasses anything I ever saw or heard of. His attention to the patient is highly commendable.

JOHN WAKELY, No. 104 Monroe-st.

MIRACULOUS CURE OF THE CHRONIC CATARRH, ASSUMING THE FORM OF CONSUMPTION.

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, and a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting of blood. I have been treated by many eminent physicians without success. Recently the Catarrh became so offensive that I could not go into society. Hearing of DR. VON EISENBERG'S new invention, I thought I would apply to him as a last resource. Having been satisfied with his diagnosis, I submitted to his treatment, and have every reason to be abundantly satisfied, as I am completely cured, and my health so much renovated that I feel better than I felt for the last fifteen years. It is a blessing that experience gives the Doctor the power to restore such a shattered constitution to perfect vigor. I now feel very happy to be able to give this testimonial in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's inimitable skill.

RESTORATION OF SIGHT.

I, Lawrence Grenna, No. 186 East 36th-st., New-York City, have been suffering from blindness of the left eye for a considerable period. The eye was continually in a state of great inflammation, from which the good eye became affected, and, indeed, my general health was greatly injured by it. Hearing of Dr. Von Eisenberg's great reputation, and as every one said mine was a hopeless case, I called on the Doctor, who, after examining me, undertook my case, and within a fortnight I found myself almost completely cured. It is now a month since I placed myself under Dr. Von Eisenberg's treatment, and I am happy to be able to state that the inflammation is entirely gone, so that I see perfectly with both eyes, added to which I am in good health—a blessing I have not enjoyed since I was blind. I do conscientiously and gratefully swear to the above statement, in a court of justice, at the City Hall of the City of New-York, the 10th day of October, 1864.

LAWRENCE GRENNA.

Sworn before me this 10th day of October, 1864.

PROPOSALS FOR FUNDING CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS, COMPOUND INTEREST NOTES AND TREASURY NOTES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29, 1865.

By virtue of the authority contained in the first section of an act of Congress entitled "An Act to provide ways and means to support the Government," approved March 3, 1865, which provides, among other things, that any Treasury Notes, or other obligations bearing interest issued under any act of Congress, may, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, and with the consent of the holder, be converted into any description of bonds authorized by said act, notice is hereby given to the holders of Certificates of Indebtedness which mature before the 1st day of January next, of Compound Interest Notes, and of one and two year Treasury Notes, of the readiness of this department to give in exchange for them, to the extent of fifty millions of dollars, six per cent. Five-Twenty Year Bonds at three per cent. premium; that is to say, one hundred dollars of bonds for each one hundred and three dollars in certificates and notes; provided the conversion is made prior to the 1st day of November next.

The bonds issued in exchange for such certificates and notes will bear an interest of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually in coin, upon the first days of May and November, and will be redeemable at the pleasure of the government after five years, and payable in twenty years from the first day of November, 1865.

The coupon and registered bonds issued under this proposal will be of the denominations of one hundred, five hundred and one thousand dollars. Registered bonds of five thousand and ten thousand dollars will be issued if desired.

Holders of certificates, compound interest or Treasury notes, who desire to make such conversions, will deliver them to the Treasurer, the Assistant Treasurers or the designated depositaries of the United States, or to any national depositary bank which may consent to transact the business without charge.

Interest will be allowed on certificates of indebtedness, and one and two-year Treasury notes matured or maturing prior to the first of November, 1865, up to the date of maturity, and when maturing after the first of November, interest will be allowed to that day.

Upon the compound interest notes the interest will be computed to November 1, 1865, upon the amount of principal and interest compounded on the back of said notes, from the period next prior to that date.

The principal and interest of such Treasury Notes and obligations will be considered together as an offer for conversion, but when, after deducting the principal of the Bonds, and three per cent. premium, there remains a fractional part of one hundred dollars, this fractional part will be paid to the depositor.

The Secretary reserves to himself the right of withdrawing this proposal at any time prior to said first day of November, provided fifty millions of dollars shall, prior to that date, be offered for conversion as aforesaid.

Circulars of instructions will be transmitted to the various officers authorized to receive certificates and notes, to which attention is invited.

H. McCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

MEDICAL.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

A. M. MAURICEAU, PROFESSOR OF midwifery and operating surgeon, having over thirty years' successful practice in this city, guarantees a safe and immediate removal of all special irregularities and obstructions in females, without pain or exposure, with or without medicine. Can be consulted with the utmost confidence at his private office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York, or by mail.
Dr. A. M. Mauriceau is the author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," strictly intended for those whose health and circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family; a perusal of which will convince any lady of his thorough knowledge of her complaints. Every lady who has it is secure from danger and imposition. Price $1. Sold at his office No. 129 Liberty-st., or sent by mail, by addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. Sold also at No. 1 Vesey-st., New-York; in Boston, No. 13 Court-st.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. NOTES FROM THE PEOPLE.

Education in the South.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

DEAR SIR: An article upon this matter in this morning's TIMES strikes the right chord and calls attention to a subject of paramount importance. In the present state of the suffrage question it is evident, even to the most careless observer, that the destiny of the South, in some respects of the whole country, and in many respects of the freedmen, is to be largely influenced by the hitherto uninfluential class of "poor whites." Their education is, therefore, of the utmost national importance. Certain facts in this matter are worthy of consideration.

1. The common people of the South are very anxious to have schools and educational systems established. One of the first acts of Maryland after emancipation was the establishment of a free school system. One of the first appropriations passed by the Tennessee Legislature was a million dollars for educational purposes. While a portion of the aristocracy are still opposed to the "leveling" produced by common schools, the better portion of the middle classes are very anxious for their introduction. The loyalists are equally anxious to secure their being placed under loyal influences and control. There is no dearth of teachers. The supply is greater than the demand. Hundreds of well, or tolerably educated persons, who have never before been dependent on their exertions for a living, are now reduced to poverty. Teaching is a genteel avocation, and they turn to teaching. When the public schools of Nashville were reopened, the trustees were overrun by applications for situations from returned soldiers of both armies—many of them, of course, unqualified rebels. A loyal clergyman of East Tennessee said to us, not long since: "We have schools, and the people pinch themselves to support them; but our teachers are all rebel women from Alabama and Mississippi. Send us some loyal teachers." GOV. HOLDEN, of North Carolina, writes us: "I will particularly extend all the aid in my power to the great cause of education." GOVS. BROWNLOW, of Tennessee, MURPHY, of Arkansas, and PEIRPOINT, of Virginia, have expressed themselves in a similar manner.

But, while the people are anxious to see schools established and education made universal; they are without the necessary means. The school funds, never very large, were generally invested in Confederate bonds, and are utterly lost. The school buildings were used for hospitals, prisons and guard-houses, or simply standing vacant, are in sad lack of repair. The people have not the means to pay tuition, and save in exceptional cases, cannot bear taxation. A few pay-schools are springing up, where a handful of children receive instruction, not always from competent or loyal teachers. But the masses are left uncared for.

What there is needed is the infusion of a comparatively few first-class teachers of acknowledged ability and of experience, to aid in starting schools, and who will remain permanent citizens of the South, to assist in forming her educational systems upon the best models which experience can suggest. This year they will need a partial support at least from the North. In another year, or two, at the most, they will be supported by the communities in which they live.

Among the objects of the American Union Commission is the work which it is thus doing to aid in the education of the South. It has sent out two young men, college graduates, to act as principals of the public schools at Nashville, and secured their appointment by the authorities there. It has opened the academy at Knoxville, under the charge of another graduate of Yale. It has opened a large school in Richmond, in buildings given by the government for the purpose. It has commenced other schools in less important points. It has sent one of the late instructors of Yale College to coöperate with the government in establishing schools in North Carolina, and under his direction, is about opening one at Raleigh. To carry on these operations it needs a larger and wiser interest in the work among the people of the North. A hundred thousand dollars could be advantageously spent at once in planting schools in the Southern States. With this amount at its command it could at once establish schools throughout Arkansas, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina, and probably in Georgia, schools under loyal and liberty-loving teachers, schools which would be partly self-supporting now, and which would be entirely supported by the people themselves in another year.

Yours respectfully,
LYMAN ABBOTT,
Gen. Sec. Am. Union Commission.

Abuse of the Soldiers.

HART'S ISLAND, NEW-YORK HARBOR, }
Tuesday, Oct. 3, 1865. }

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The enlisted men of the Eighth Regiment United States Veteran Volunteers, First Army Corps, now quartered on Hart's Island, for the ostensible purpose of guarding the regulars to prevent them from deserting, and to do what little guard duty is necessary while mustered out regiments are being paid, desire to lay before the public a brief statement of the manner in which they are treated by the Commissary Department upon the island.

We have been quartered upon this island about fifty days, at an expense to the government of about $1,000 per diem. Our quarters are very comfortable indeed, all that any soldier could ask for. Our duties are, so to speak, nothing—just nothing. You tax-payers may perhaps be able to appreciate the worth of such services—we cannot. Be that as it may, our labors are cheerfully performed on what we call reduced half rations. During our sojourn on this island we have not received from our Commissary one pound of vegetable food, save a few hard, musty beans. The fresh beef that is issued to us twice a week is of the very poorest quality, and in five issues out of six is unfit for food. We are thus confined by our Commissary to the following diet: Salt junk or pork, bread, coffee, sugar and musty beans. All this within two hours' ride of the best markets in the world. The long and short of the matter is simply this—no white man can live on what the Commissary furnishes us and enjoy good health.

We have thus been compelled to buy our own food from the New-York markets, and already every company has expended hundreds of dollars for the necessaries of life—for vegetable food, that the men must have to keep in good health.

The regulars, if anything, are used worse than we are; and it is no uncommon thing to see them wandering around our mess-rooms, picking up crusts of dry, waste bread, and even begging at the door of the cook-room for something to eat.

Mr. Editor, you tell your readers every day how much the nation is indebted to the soldiers, and what this and that community is doing, and should do, to testify their gratitude. The pictures you draw are beautiful, and please us much. You will, therefore, not object to let your readers look on this picture as well as on that.

All the troops on this island are veterans—soldiers who stood under our flag at Gettysburgh, Antietam, Donelson, Vicksburgh, Shiloh, Richmond, and all the great battles of the rebellion, while their brave and loved chieftains were writing their proud names in history. When there, under the torn banners of the battle-field, we were well supplied with the best of subsistence, but here we are starved, fed on convict diet, receiving, as it seems to us, no other food than what was left of the prison rations of Libby and Andersonville. How long this is to last, we cannot say. Who is in fault, we know not; but we presume that the authorities at Washington know nothing about this shameful treatment. We accordingly seek to inform them through your columns, and at the same time, let our friends, the public, and you tax-payers know how soldiers are fed in the harbor of New-York—not on the battle-field, where there would be some excuse—but here, at the very doors of the nation's granaries and larders. Very respectfully, yours,

HANCOCK.

Reimbursing Principals who Furnished Substitutes.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

On or about Feb. 10, 1865, the Legislature of this State passed a Bounty Act in reference to reimbursing principals who should furnish substitutes in the military or naval service of the United States under the President's call of about Dec. 19, 1864, and for other purposes.

Thirty millions of dollars were authorized to be raised and bonds have been issued to that amount.

The State authorities do not complain of any lack of funds.

Many persons relying upon the provisions of this law expended large sums for substitutes.

Now, how happens it that, although eight months have passed since the legislative enactment, the fifteen hundred or two thousand principals in this city who furnished substitutes subsequently to the 10th of February, and whose claims can be investigated in a very short time, are to this day very many without one cent reimbursement by the State?

Perhaps the number is less than fifteen hundred.

If it keeps on in this way the loss of interest will eat up the principal to be returned.

The State bonds are in sums of $1,000, and at 7 per cent.

Who is making this interest?

Why are the bonds not issued in such amounts that the principal can get a bond if not his money?

Surely the principals who relieved themselves from the draft and thus relieved others also, under an expectation that a part of their money would be soon refunded, should not be subjected to any further loss of interest.

If the State has the money, as I am informed it has, a man with the brains of a cow would not take so long before he refunded to principals. The law did not contemplate this long delay.

Are the bonds sold at a discount? Who gets it? Why don't the State pay up?

Overcrowding the Schools.

NEW-YORK, Friday, Oct. 6, 1865.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Referring to the editorial matter in your issue of to-day, on the subject of the action of the city authorities, in excluding the children of non-residents from our schools, I beg to record in a few words my own experience. The proximity of my residence, and the character of the girls' grammar school in Twelfth-street, near Broadway, makes me desire to send a daughter there for instruction; but, month after month, I am informed by the lady-like principal that she would be glad to admit the applicant but has no vacancy. Though paying taxes in this city, on both my business and my residence, I can only quietly regret that I am not so fortunate as some of our friends in Williamsburgh and Jersey City, whose daughters are occupying some of the seats in this school. FREAKS OF A LUNATIC.

The proprietors of the Fifth-avenue Hotel, sent to court a young man of about 30 years, whose fine address won the Judge and all the spectators. The prisoner, whose actual name is D. STELLIFER MOULTON, rejoices in the pseudonym of "STELLIFER, the King, Reigning Prince of the House of David, and Guardian of American Destiny." He bears an autograph letter from Messrs. WORTHINGTON, FLANDERS & Co., of the Boston Traveler, indorsing him as their regular New-York correspondent, and among his papers are copies of correspondence between himself and many gentlemen of eminence in social, financial and political circles. The most interesting of these is a paper which Mr. MOULTON received from Messrs. HUTCHINS & WILLIAMS, inasmuch as it shows why he was sent to court by the proprietors of the Fifth-avenue Hotel, and is couched in the following terms:

Mr. MOULTON to A. HUTCHINS & B. WILLIAMS, Dr.
For board 4¾ weeks	$31
For bill previous, unpaid	96
Total	$127

Other papers in the young man's possession show that he had boarded at the Tremont, Revere and Winthrop, in Boston, and the Astor, Prescott, and other hotels here, and had promised to pay whenever he could collect a trifling claim of three millions or so which he held against the government; but that the landlords, having been pressed for ready money, had declined to accept any share of that claim as collateral security. From a mass of the young man's correspondence, we select the following copies of his own letters, showing the condition of his mind:

NEW-YORK, Sept. 9, 1865.

To His Excellency, Montholon, Minister of the Emperor of France:

SIR: Wherefore do you care so little for your Emperor? Be pleased, your Excellency, to come now to New-York, that I may speak to you concerning your Emperor's affairs with me; for the welfare of nations will oblige me presently to introduce my sword in Europe; and I wish to show you, in the Emperor's stead, why it is good that the Emperor of France should send to me his special ambassador and minister. Further, also, I am told that the power of your Emperor is robbing and destroying the people of my guardianship in Mexico, and the sword of STELLIFER wishes to give counsel concerning this matter.

I have the honor to be your very humble servant,
STELLIFER, THE KING,
Reigning Prince of the House of David, and Guardian of American Destinies.

A like letter, addressed to Sir FREDERICK BRUCE, Minister of Great Britain, asks why the British Government is disquieting STELLIFER's liege subjects in the Canadas, and another letter, addressed to the Minister of the King of Italy, propounds queries concerning the Church and Papal States. These letters are marked "copy," and "sent in duplicate." STELLIFER appears to have been nomadic in religious matters, and whenever he has attended any of our churches he has sent a note to the officiating clergyman, thus:

"STELLIFER, the King, has to-day visited this congregation. Peace and gladness to all the people, and joy be in all the mountain of Zion.

THE KING COMMANDS."

The foregoing was left at one of the synagogues in this city, as appears by the following letter:

FIFTH-AVENUE HOTEL, }
NEW-YORK, Sept. 29, 1865. }

To His Honor the Mayor of New-York, to His Excellency the Governor of the State of New-York, to His Excellency the President of the United States:

SIR: The whole congregation of Israel is one, and the King is one; but the preachers are many, and their congregations many. Last Friday, the 22d instant, I visited the Synagogue in Nineteenth-street, and was sitting with the congregation; and at the time of the horn blowing the power was great upon me, so that I came down from the corner of the synagogue where they had given me a seat with the congregation, and I came and stood by the altar in the midst of the synagogue, and uncovered my head; and I commanded the horn-blowing to cease, and was about to speak before the teachers and congregation present with words like these in the letter, when certain of the congregation seized me with violence and brought me out of the synagogue, for I would not stoutly resist them. Afterward I wrote the words, and sealed and directed the letter like to the letter inclosed, and brought the letter to the synagogue a little before mid-day, and it was given to some of the congregation, and I commanded them to bring it instantly to the Chief Teacher, that he might read it before the people. Sir, the affairs of my government are heavy, and I cease not to wonder that of the brethren there are none with me.

Your humble servant,
STELLIFER, THE KING,
Reigning Prince of the House of David, and Guardian of American Destinies.

STELLIFER, the King, appears to have pursued the Austrian Minister to Lake Mahopac, and there vouchsafed certain information. The Minister's reply is as follows:

The Austrian Minister is ready to receive by writing the communication alluded to in Mr. MOULTON's letter of the 5th of August. Should the Austrian Minister find the said information is of a nature to necessitate a personal interview, he will apprise Mr. MOULTON of the same.

To whom the following was sent does not appear:

BALDWIN'S HOTEL, LAKE MAHOPAC, N. Y., Aug. 12, 1865
To the Government of the United States:

Please pay to myself, or to my order, $3,500,000, the same being the amount of allowances due me, according to petition to United States Congress for allowances, for the first and second quarters of the current fiscal year.

Your great servant, STELLIFER.

The King's missives do not appear to have been kindly received by the bankers. Hear AUGUST BELMONT:

"Mr. BELMONT herewith returns the papers sent him by Mr. STELLIFER, and he must request that gentleman not to trouble him any more with such matters, as he has no time to attend to them.

No. 50 Wall-street, 17th January, 1865."

The letter to which the foregoing is a reply, contains a modest petition for a loan of the trifle of $500,000, BELMONT to accept either STELLIFER's order on the government or his own paper, as the house of BELMONT & Co. might elect. Other letters show that the King recently sent proposals to Messrs. RAYMOND, GREELEY and BENNETT, proposing to establish a new daily journal in this city, to be his special organ.

The parents of this unfortunate young man dwell in Centre Ossipee, N. H. Justice DODGE has committed him to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, to be sent to the lunatic asylum.

EXAMINATION OF ALLEGED RECEIVERS.

Recently Messrs. BARTHOLIC & ISAACSON, of No. 60 Nassau-street, merchants, were arrested on accusation of receiving goods that are alleged to have been stolen by one of the late clerks of Mr. FREDERICK BOOSS, of No. 44 Maiden-lane. Mr. BOOSS testified, on Saturday, that while JAMES WRIGHT was in his employ he frequently missed goods from his store, and that between October, 1864, and April, 1865, more than $10,000 worth of furs and silks were stolen therefrom; that some of these goods were found at the dwelling of BARTHOLIC, at No. 46 Henry-street, and others at No. 60 Nassau-street; that BARTHOLIC admitted that he had purchased $4,000 worth of these goods from WRIGHT, and paid only $1,500 therefor, and ISAACSON likewise admitted that the goods had been stolen, and that himself and BARTHOLIC had ripped the lining from many of the furs and shipped them to Saugerties and thence back to New-York, and sold them to various merchants. These confessions, the witness said, were made at the Seventeenth Precinct Police-station, and counsel assert that they were extorted after three days' confinement in a solitary cell. Other witnesses were examined, and the hearing was adjourned.

The Tombs—Before Justice Hogan.

AN ALLEGED RIVER THIEF,

who is described on the Tombs court books as GEORGE SEYMOUR, of St. Louis, was arrested by the Fourth Ward police, on Saturday, and yesterday morning Captain ROBERT L. STARWOOD, of the bark Quindora, moored at the West Eighteenth-street pier, appeared before Justice HOGAN and made oath that on the night of the 5th instant the prisoner and several confederates boarded the bark and stole from her cabin a quantity of wearing apparel, bed-clothing, a telescope, and a lorgnette, all of the value of $360. SEYMOUR was committed for trial. His confederates are at large.

Rescue the Fallen.

At a meeting of gentlemen called to devise some measures for rescuing the multitude of fallen women to be found in our metropolis, and for preventing others from falling who are exposed to temptation, it was resolved that there is an urgent call for the establishment of a House of Reception in the midst of the city, in which those who desire to reform may find a temporary refuge, and in which the virtuous may seek protection in their exposure. The undersigned were appointed a committee to raise the funds for such an institution, and were authorized to place it under the entire control of the lady managers of the Magdalen Female Benevolent Society. These ladies have consented to take the charge of such a house, in addition to the home already established and filled to its utmost capacity. An appeal is now made to all who are interested in the moral character of our city, and in the temporal and eternal welfare of their fellow-men, to contribute liberally to the establishment of such an institution. It is not deemed necessary to set forth the enormity of the evil which so loudly calls for vigorous efforts at removal. It stares us in the face on every corner and in every street. It is one of the most melancholy features of this social evil, and at the same time a source of encouragement to labor for their reformation, that so many of the victims of this vice are young girls. It is confidently believed that under the wise management of the ladies who are to have it in charge, this House of Reception will be instrumental in accomplishing great good, and that, through the many avenues of influence which it will open, it will inaugurate a new era in efforts to rescue the fallen and deliver the tempted. An agent will be duly authorized to collect funds for this object, and, in the meantime, contributions may be sent to either of the undersigned. Donations will be acknowledged every month. A. R. THE PATERSON FALL MEETING.

The Fall meeting of the Passaic County Agricultural Association will commence to-morrow at Paterson, N. J. The programme issued by the Association is of the most varied description, as will be seen by reference to the advertisement, there being no less than four heavy stakes down for decision on each of the three days to which the meeting extends. On to-morrow, the opening day, the first race will be "The St. Leger Stake," of $1,000, for three-year olds, two and a quarter miles, p. p., which has no less than forty entries, with every prospect of a large field coming to the scratch, and a most exciting contest. There are also, on the same day, a purse of $200, mile heats; one of $500, two-mile heats; and a selling-stake, one mile and a quarter.

On the second day the leading feature will be the steeple chase for a purse of $700, over three miles of fair hunting country,—hedges, ditches, walls, fences, and water leaps, all of which are in sight of the grand stand. At the Spring meeting the steeple chase created much excitement, and attracted a crowd of visitors. The excitement will be intensified on this occasion, as a much larger number of horses are entered—no less than seven of the leading steeple chasers from Canada being candidates for victory, or an overthrow, at some one or other of the obstacles. The third race will be the trial stakes of $500 for two-year olds, one and one-eighth miles, for which ten promising youngsters are entered. There is also the trial stakes and a single dash of three miles. On the third day we shall have "a hurdle race" for a purse of $500—two miles over eight flights of hurdles. This will be only second in excitement to the steeple chase, and nearly, if not all, the same horses will compete. This will be followed by "the sequel stakes" for three-year olds, which has five entries,—and a three-mile-heat race for a purse of $700, with a stake of $200 for beaten horses to wind up with. There are an immense number of horses on the ground, comprising the élite of all the great racing stables as represented recently at Saratoga and the Paterson Spring meeting, and three days of ample sport may be justly anticipated. All the arrangements of the meeting will be of the same excellent character as distinguished the Spring meeting, and also that of Saratoga, (the management being nearly identical,) which was the theme of general satisfaction. The association is composed entirely of gentlemen who support racing for the pleasure it affords them, and not with a view to emolument. Their regulations are of the most stringent character, and the preservation of decorum is strictly enforced, as well as the exclusion of all improper persons. There will be an extra special train on the Erie Railroad at 11:45 each day, with ladies cars' attached, returning after the last race of the day. A large number of the fair sex graced the grand stand at the Spring meeting, and doubtless will at the Fall reunion.

FASHION COURSE, LONG ISLAND.

The match for $2,000 at two-mile heats, between Ella Sherwood and Shark came off on Saturday, and resulted, as will be seen, in the victory of the former in two straight heats. The time made was much better than could have been expected with a heavy track, and a strong breeze blowing. The attendance was not large, Saturday being a bad day to attract a crowd.

FIRST HEAT—Betting $100 to $40 on Ella, who opened a gap of two lengths rounding the turn, continuing to the half mile—where Shark closed a little on her, and at the three-quarter pole, they were wheel and wheel, keeping this up the home stretch to the distance, where Shark gave way and broke up, letting Ella pass the stand two lengths ahead, which she increased to three. Rounding the turn on the second mile, at the quarter she was five, and down the back six in advance of Shark, and going beautifully; at the three-quarters, Shark closed the gap a couple of lengths, but failed in reaching Ella, who came home a gallant winner by two lengths.

SECOND HEAT—Betting five to one on Ella, with few takers. Ella dashed off in front, and led three lengths at the turn, increasing it to four at the quarter. Down the back, Shark closed a little on the mare, who led, however, three lengths at the half mile; at the three-quarters, it was reduced to little over a length, and making the home stretch on the first mile, Shark's head was at her wheel, in which order they passed the stand on the first mile. Round the turn, Ella opened the gap again, and led three lengths at the quarter, which Shark decreased down the back to the half mile to two lengths. At the three-quarters, Ella broke, but caught quickly, and led a length and a half at the home stretch turn. Half way up, Shark got to her wheel, but she shook him off, and won the heat with a length to spare.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

PICKPOCKETS IN THE BROADWAY STAGES.—Saturday forenoon, Mrs. GRAHAM, of Eighteenth-street, descending from a Twenty-third-street stage in Broadway near Fourth-street, hailed Roundsman EDWARD R. DE LAMATER, of the Broadway police, and informed him that she had lost her wallet in that omnibus. Officer DE LAMATER bade her tarry near the corner while he overhauled the vehicle; he had, however, a spirited race with the stage, but captured it near Bleecker-street. Entering, he inquired whether any person had found a wallet. Nobody had. "Then," said he, "permit me to search this vehicle;" and the passengers having risen, he found a wallet under the feet of a gaudily-attired female. He returned to Mrs. GRAHAM and to his amazement learned that the wallet which he had recovered was not her property, and contained $20 more than hers, she having had only $30. A gas-bill in the wallet disclosed the owner's name, and he notified the lady yesterday afternoon; but under the Metropolitan Police rule the owner cannot get her property until it passes through the hands of the Police Property Clerk. That gentleman will restore it to her this morning. Officer DE LAMATER thinks that the female at whose feet he found the wallet had stolen two port-monnaies, and, on seeing him, dropped the one that he recovered, as a ruse to throw him of scent.

ANOTHER FATAL ERROR.—Coroner GOVER was summoned on Friday to hold an inquest over the body of THOMAS H. LYETT, of No. 415 West Fifty-fourth-street, a child of 36 months, who had accidentally been poisoned. The child had suffered from croup, and Dr. CHURCH had prescribed quinine; but Mr. OTTO GRAFF, of No. 769 Eighth-avenue, to whose store Mr. LYETT went, having filled a prescription in which morphine was the chief ingredient, by mistake gave Mr. LYETT the morphine, and nobody in the house understanding the apothecary's hieroglyphics, the dose was administered. The error having been discovered, physicians were called, but the poison had done its work. The Coroner's jury, on Saturday, rendered a verdict as follows: "We find that THOMAS H. LYETT came to his death by an overdose of morphine, put up by OTTO N. GRAFF, of No. 769 Eighth-avenue, druggist, in place of quinine, and we censure said OTTO N. GRAFF for his gross carelessness and inattention in putting up said prescription."

BURIAL CERTIFICATE FORGED.—On the 24th of August, THOMAS RYAN, of No. 477 Ninth-avenue, a child of 7 months, was thrown from a vehicle at Hunter's Point, and almost instantly killed. The body was brought to this city, and a document was made and signed "James O'Reily, M. D.," certifying that the deceased died of convulsions; and upon this certificate Mr. PAUL MCGINN, of Hunter's Point, buried the corpse in Calvary Cemetery. Coroner LEWIS, of Queens County, having heard of the transaction, made inquiry at our City Inspector's office, and there found the forged certificate. He will disinter the corpse to-day, impanel a jury, and take action against every person concerned. What object the forger could have had does not appear.

ACCIDENT ON THE HARLEM RAILROAD—GROSS RECKLESSNESS.—A man named JOHN ROSS, driving a wagon belonging to the Oriental Brewery, attempted to cross the railroad at Fifty-fourth-street, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, when he was run into by a gravel train which was passing up at a rapid speed. The horse was killed, and the wagon smashed. Ross was picked up with his ribs broken, and suffering from other injuries. He was at once removed to the St. Luke's Hospital, where he was pronounced in a very critical condition. Really, some action should be taken in regard to the rate at which the cars are driven through the densely populated portion of the city.

FIRE IN WEST FIFTEENTH-STREET.—Mr. HENRY S. LESZINSKY's dwelling, at No. 152 West Fifteenth-street, was damaged by fire to the extent of about $3,000, about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. Mr. JAMES BALDWIN's house, adjoining, numbered 150, was damaged considerably, but may be repaired for $1,500, and Mr. HENRY SOFEY's house and furniture, at No. 154, were damaged to the amount of perhaps $1,000. The two latter-named gentlemen have $6,000 insurance in the Metropolitan office. Mr. LESZINSKY is fully insured in the Eagle and Columbia companies. The fire is supposed to have originated from a curtain taking fire from a gas-jet.

ARREST OF A MURDERER.—The authorities of Pittsburgh, Penn., recently sent a policeman to this city in pursuit of a murderer who was supposed to have taken refuge here; but after a week of fruitless search the Pittsburgh officer departed, leaving the matter in the hands of Capt. GEORGE W. WALLING, of the Twentieth Ward, and on Saturday night Ward Detective IRVING captured the fugitive, whose name is RICHARD MARSCHALL. He was taken to Pittsburgh yesterday.

ARREST OF RIVER THIEVES.—Sunday morning about 1 o'clock, Sergt. O'BRIEN, of the Harbor Police, arrested, in a small boat on the East River, off Houston-street, two men, named DANIEL TUEY and PATRICK GANNON, having in their possession a bale of cotton, with the Internal Revenue mark on it, supposed to have been stolen. The prisoners were taken to the Tombs, and the cotton is kept on board the Harbor Police-boat at Whitehall for identification.

CANAL BOAT SUNK.—Between 4 and 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon, the canal boat Daniel Peck was run into and sunk by the steamboat Thomas Hunt, off Pier No. 19 North River. Capt. DALON, the captain of the Peck, estimates the value of the cargo with which she was loaded at $4,000.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

ESCAPE OF BURGLARS FROM THE PRISON VAN.—Three persons who were held on the charge of burglary, attempted to escape from the prison van, going from the Fourth District Court to the jail on Saturday last. They managed to force the back of the wagon out by means of a hammer. One of them, named JAS. ROBERTSON, got off. The others were detained by Officer O. H. SMITH, of the Forty-fourth Precinct Police, and taken to jail, where they are safely lodged.

SUFFOCATED IN A SINK.—The body of a female infant was found on Saturday in the sink rear of Mr. KRUGER's residence in Tompkins-avenue, between Hancock and Halsey streets. The Coroner will investigate the circumstances to-day.

Specific Performance—The Rights of Married Women Relative to Conveying Real Estate.

AN IMPORTANT OPINION OF THE GENERAL TERM SUPREME COURT.

Before Presiding Justice Ingraham—Clerke and Barnard, J. J.—September Term.

Frederick F. Thompson and Wife vs. Jane Liftchild and Sarah Ann Liftchild.—This action was brought to compel the specific performance of an agreement for the sale of a house and lot in Forty-seventh-street.

The contract for the sale was made in pursuance of negotiations between Frederick J. Thompson and the husband of Sarah Ann Liftchild. The contract was signed by Jane Liftchild. Previous to making the contract she held the title to the property by a deed from Sarah to her. This deed, both of them testified, was given as security for $1,000, loaned by Jane to Sarah. They also testified that the same was repaid, and a deed of the premises was executed by Jane to Sarah, bearing date previous to the date of the contract. The plaintiffs contended that this deed was executed after the contract to defraud them, and the Judge so found at the trial.

Judgment was rendered for the plaintiffs, directing the parties defendants to join in a conveyance of the property, in fulfillment of the contract. The defendants appealed.

S. Jones for defendants; E. More for plaintiffs.

INGRAHAM, P. J.—I am not satisfied, from the evidence, that there ever was a time when Jane Liftchild had authority to sell the property in question. Even admitting that at the time of making the contract she held the title, the evidence shows that she only held it as security for a loan, and not in her own right. If the testimony on this subject is true, and there is no evidence to contradict it, she had no right to sell the property; and where that is the case, equity will not order a specific performance, but leave the party injured to his claim for damages.

The theory upon which the cause was decided appears to be that Sarah, who in reality was the owner, consented to the sale by Jane, and that afterward, both parties, thinking the sale was for too small a price, resorted to a conveyance from Jane to Sarah, to avoid performance. The evidence seems to me very weak to warrant such a conclusion.

One of these parties is a femme covert, and she appears to be in reality the owner of the property. It has not been usual to compel a specific performance by a married woman, unless she executes the contract. In Knowles & Hume vs. McCamby, 10, page 342, the Chancellor refused to decree specific performance of a contract made by the husband for the wife, holding that she must not only sign the contract, but must also acknowledge the execution upon a private examination by her.

Whether this rule would now be applied to its full extent, since the alteration of the law as to the property of married women, may be doubted. But it seems to me, under any circumstances, the property of a married woman should not be bound solely to the fact of knowledge on her part that others were attempting to sell it.

If the act of Jane Liftchild is to be construed as the act of Sarah, it should have been made in her name. In such a case, a parole authority to sell would be sufficient. But I do not think that mere knowledge of a contract made by Jane for the sale of this property should be held enough to compel a specific performance of the contract. The plaintiffs have their remedy for damages, and should be kept to that remedy.

But while I think that a specific performance should not be decreed, I am of the opinion that, under the circumstances of this case, the court can in this action award the compensation in damages which the plaintiff has sustained. By the contract these damages are liquidated, and for that amount and the moneys paid on executing the contract, the plaintiffs are entitled to recover against the party with whom the contract was made. This was so held by the Chancellor in Thorp vs. Elmendorf, 11 Paige, 277, where the party contracting to sell, as in this case, put it out of his power to perform before the suit was commenced.

The case of Mount vs. Morton, 20 Barb., 123, relied upon by the plaintiff's counsel, was a case of ratification by married women by deed executed by them of the portion set off to them in a partition to such act, were held sufficient to bind them. This was done, also, after they became sole. Of the propriety of that decision there can be no doubt.

My conclusion is, that the judgment in its present form cannot be sustained.

BARNARD, Justice, concurred in the above opinion. Justice CLERKE dissented.
